Use Old Post Office For City Library Asked

Council Gets Several Requests That Action Be Taken At Once

WOMEN'S CLUBS ARE ASKING FOR STEP

Council Hears Petitions And Has Them Placed On File

Several women's organizations today submitted to city council petitions in which it was urged that the old postoffice building in North Mercer street be acquired for public library purposes.

After the petitions had been read by the city clerk Mayor Mayne presented a motion, which passed and as the result of which, all of the petitions were filed.

In making the motion the chief executive of the city inferred that the letters had arrived simultaneously at the direction of one person.

The mayor added that he anticipated that a number of other letters would be received by council and in making the motion remarked: "Just file these and the rest to come."

Petitions Read

A petition from the College club was signed by President Helen Ruby and Corresponding Secretary Claire Shields. In effect it requested that if the building is donated, that it be used for library purposes. The members declared they were interested in the welfare of the city and a better library building is necessary.

Order of Rainbow Girls, Assembly 1, sent a petition of request signed by Isabelle Shaw, worthy advisor; Betty Templeton, recorder and Mrs. Walter C. DeArment, mother advisor. The letter asked the city to use its influence to secure the building and equipment for a public library.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Dear Pa Newc:

Viewing the works of nature in the darkness seems a little out of place. This happened to me Monday evening. Charles M. Black, of East Brook took me out to that vicinity to see a shrub, which he states was plentiful fifty years ago. With the aid of a light, I viewed a bush about twelve feet high, its crown carried a mass of crimson berries that were beautiful, the like I have never seen before. Mr. Black called these berries Buffalo berries. It would be rash for me to betray the location of this bush for I believe the red berries would be a temptation, also I wish to delve more into the history of this bush.

To Withdraw Troops From Shelbyville, Tenn.

(International News Service)

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 21.—Orderly quiet, enforced by 600 national guardsmen, prevailed today in Shelbyville, scene of rioting by a lynch-maddened mob in which three white men were killed and the $150,000 Bedford county courthouse destroyed by fire.

Racial tension that brought a bloody clash between militiamen and the mob of more than 1,500 for possession of a negro prisoner apparently had subsided. Authorities indicated that the troops would be withdrawn within 24 hours.

Circuit Judge T. L. Coleman announced that a change of venue will be given the negro, E. K. Harris, 22, charged with criminally attacking a 14-year-old white girl.

The death toll was raised to three when Gilford Freeman, 45, succumbed to abdominal wounds suffered in repeated mob attacks against the militiamen guarding the courthouse. Raleigh Edwards, 30, and an unidentified man whose body was spirited away and buried were the other fatalities.

Nearly a score were wounded by bullets, bayonets and tear gas bombs, a checkup disclosed.

Fifty Blind Are Guests Of New Castle Lions At Annual Holiday Party

HOLIDAY merriment resounded through the dining hall of the First United Presbyterian church on Clenmore boulevard last night as a host of almost 50 blind residents of New Castle and the rest of Lawrence county—some totally sightless, others partly so—enjoyed the annual Christmas banquet which the Lions club tenders them.

Joining the Lions as hosts for the evening were the Ladies of the Lions, the club's auxiliary group, and before the program ended each blind lady received a box of candy and each blind man a necktie as a Christmas gift from the ladies' organization.

Around five long tables the 150 diners assembled for a delicious dinner, served by the Dorcas Circle of the First U. P. church, and for the later program given partly by

Three DuPont Powder Workers Near Scranton, Pa., Lose Lives In Blast

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 21.—Three men were dead today as the result of an explosion that ripped the powder drying shop of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Company at Jessup last night.

The victims were William Martin, 53, Godfrey Taylor, 32, and Lloyd Meyers, 33.

Authorities were seeking to learn the cause of the blast. Workmen suggested the explosion may have been set off by a spark from a wheel used in the drying process.

Firmly Believe That Desperate Escaped Criminal Is Leader Of Bandit Gang

GET-AWAY CAR HAS BEEN FOUND

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—Seeking a clue to the whereabouts of Robert "killer" Mais and his mob, department of justice agents today scoured adjacent Montgomery county as officers definitely linked Mais with yesterday's $48,500 robbery of the Philadelphia Electric Company.

Finding of the robbery get-away car in a Montgomery county cemetery turned the hunt in that direction. Police, meanwhile, privately expressed the fear that the gang, while "lying low," might plan to kidnap some one of numerous wealthy residents in the area.

Detective Captain James Malone was confident today the officers were on the right track. He commented, tersely:

"It was one of Mais' jobs."

Wrecked Plane Found In Desert; Seven Are Killed

Planes Locate Ruins After Search Over Syrian Desert

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

CAIRO, Dec. 21.—Twenty-five airplanes that scoured the storm-soaked Syrian desert for the missing "Flying Hotel" that placed second in the London-Melbourne air race found it today—a charred wreck, its seven occupants killed.

A detachment of the British Royal Air Force risked their own lives in landing in the mud near the wreck, but the heat of the still-smouldering wreckage was too great for them to approach close enough to remove the bodies.

Flyers who participated in the discovery expressed the belief that the big American-built Douglas transport had either been hit by lightning or forced down in the storm shortly after she sent out her last wireless message—which indicated no trouble—early Wednesday morning.

Officials of the KLM—the Royal Dutch Air Lines—which had placed the famous plane on a regular run, and Irak authorities left Baghdad immediately for the wreck.

The ill-fated plane carried a crew of four and three passengers.

Wilson To Head RWD In County

New Castle Man To Succeed Mudehart, Who Is Sent To Oil City

Announcement was made today of the promotion of RWD Director George Mudehart from the Lawrence-Mercer-Butler area, to the position of administrator of District 8 located at Oil City, Pa. In his new work Mr. Mudehart will have charge not only of the Works Division but also the Emergency Relief.

Mr. Mudehart came to New Castle in August to organize and direct the new RWD program which was then starting. This he did in an efficient manner and today there are over 4000 working in Lawrence county. His promotion to Oil City as district administrator marks a departure in the relief plan. Under the new plan the relief and works will be under the supervision of an engineer.

Replacing Mr. Mudehart here, W. Leslie Wilson, well known local engineer has been named as acting deputy director and will have charge of the Works Division. Mr. Wilson is an engineer of years standing and has practised his profession in New Castle almost since his graduation. He has been engaged in supervisory work in the RWD and takes up his new duties with a thorough knowledge of what is required.

CITY TO PAY ALL BILLS THIS YEAR

During a formal meeting of council held in city hall today Safety Director Albert Hoyland presented a surprise to colleagues when he remarked: "Gentlemen, I expect to pay every bill the city owes before January 1.. I feel that you are all vitally interested in this."

"He's been hiding money," replied Mayor Charles Mayne.

MEN PARADE IN UNDERWEAR AND BARRELS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—This metropolis today was reflecting on one of the most unusual and poignant parades ever seen.

Led by a double-horned goat, 15 members of the Old Bucks and Lame Ducks club of Urbain Leroux, famous Mr. Zero of the Bowery, tramped through downtown Manhattan to city hall clad only in long winter underwear and barrels.

On the barrels were crudely-painted signs, which read: "Born naked. Am I returning thus?"

"Need shoes, socks, overcoats, shaving sets."

"Give us clothes or we'll go nudist."

Policemen at city hall told Leroux that Mayor LaGuardia was absent and that he'd be unable to present a petition for aid.

County Schools Name Delegates

Like the city schools, the schools of the county districts will be represented in the convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association in Harrisburg December 26 and 27. Delegates to represent the county are administrative, Superintendent John C. Syling; high schools, William Raney, of Plaingrove; elementary, Mrs. W. F. Miller, of Hillsville.

Post Office Rush Gets Under Way

EXTRA HELP AIDS IN HANDLING MAIL

New Castle's expected Christmas mailing rush arrived full blast at the new post office today to tax to the limit the post office's regular force and the 32 extra holiday helpers.

"The volume is much better today—much better," was Postmaster Richard A. Steen's way of describing the rush.

Tonight, he said, windows of the new office will remain open until 8 o'clock for the accommodation of mailers. He urged that parcels and cards be deposited tonight if it is possible, avoiding the anticipated rush of tomorrow.

The windows will also be kept open until 8 p. m. on Saturday.

Extra Help On Job

Thursday afternoon's rapidly-growing rush led postal officials to call out the majority of the 32 extra employes for service today. Most of them were sworn in this morning. They will be kept on their jobs until after the Christmas holiday.

A test of the kind Postmaster Steen and other officials had hoped for, arose out of the increasing mail business today. It presented a fine opportunity for officials to study the building's operations under rush

Japan Is Ready With Notice Of Pact Scrapping

(International News Service)

TOKIO, Dec. 21.—That Japan will inform the United States tomorrow of her intention to terminate the Washington naval treaty was confirmed unofficially today.

The abrogation notice will be cabled to Ambassador Hirosi Saito for transmission to Secretary of State Hull.

London, Dec. 21—While the United States and Britain were understood to be ready to reach a bi-lateral naval understanding, Japan today took a long stride towards accepting the compromise limitations proposal that she had tentatively rejected during the London conversations, according to a Reuter message from Tokio.

New instructions sent to Ambassador Tsuneo Matsudaira by his home government said that Japan is prepared to accept the British formula providing for mutual notification of naval building programs by unilateral and voluntary agreements, Reuter's reported.

FIREMEN CALLED FOR TRUCK BLAZE

Firemen from No. 4 department were called to Butler avenue, at 12:15 last night, when a truck of the National Trucking company, took fire from backfiring of the carburetor.

The machine was one of a fleet hauling steel, and the blaze was extinguished with hand extinguishers by the drivers on two trucks which were following, by the time firemen arrived at the scene.

Albert Fish Will Face Murder Charge For Killing Of Grace Budd In 1928

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Some time today Albert Howard Fish, 65-year-old psychopath, will be surrendered to Westchester county authorities to face trial for the murder of little Grace Budd in the summer of 1928.

He will be turned over to the Westchester officials following his arraignment in New York on a charge of kidnaping the girl here before taking her to a lonely, abandoned house outside the city limits, where he confessed to slaying her and dismembering her body.

"CORKAGE" CHARGE BY NIGHT CLUBS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Acting to put a stop to the practice of carrying liquor into hotels and restaurants, Pittsburgh hotel men today had agreed to levy a "corkage" charge on persons who bring in their own "refreshments".

The new charge, amounting to 50 cents per person, will be effective New Year's eve, it was said.

In a statement to police, Maris said he was at the home of his wife at the probable time of the shooting.

Says Nation On Way Out Of Depression

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Assurances that the country is definitely on the way out of the depression were left with Pittsburgh bankers today by Ferdinand Pecora, member of the securities and exchange commission.

Expressing the opinion that "dark chapters" in American financial history have been erased by the securities acts, Pecora said that within two years criticism of the acts will have vanished and the legislation egarded as a blessing.

Only for a temporary period have the American people deviated from their high standards of living, he he said, pointing out that no depression can deprive Americans of their accustomed living standards for more than a short time.

The nation is now definitely on the way back to prosperity, he said, and safeguards have been erected which may be expected to check a recurrence of the excesses, particularly speculation, that contributed to the last financial collapse.

Saturday Will Mark Beginning Of Long Winter

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Ushered in by the shortest day of the year, winter will begin "officially" tomorrow.

Although cold blasts have already inaugurated the season, winter will not be recognized as such until 7:50 tomororw morning, when Old Sol reahces the most distant southern point on his heavenly journey.

According to the weather bureau, tomorrow's "short" day will differ in length only a few seconds from the daylight schedule from December 13 to 29, about 9.2 hours.

DEER IS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE ON STREETS OF KANE

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Dec. 21.—This community's Christmas spirit resulted in the death of a deer today, a block from the center of the business district.

The streets have been decorated with Christmas trees.

This morning, a deer wandered into town, apparently confused by the trees. An automobile came along the street. The deer, apparently bewildered by a car driving through the "forest," stepped into the machine's path and was killed.

Council Ready To Set Tax Rate For Coming Year

Indication Is Same Rate Will Prevail As During Year Just Ending

FORMAL ACTION COMING MONDAY

Tentative Figures Are Set For Appropriation Budget For Year

Following an informal meeting of council Thursday afternoon, which proved harmonious, solons decided upon tentative appropriations for 1935, amounting to $584,998.79, and a tentative tax levy of 11½ mills for next year. It is anticipated that ordinances to this effect will be introduced by Councilman Albert Hoyland when council convenes Monday morning.

Same As 1934

The tax levy will be divided as follows: For general revenue purposes, nine mills, which will bring $457,825.14 from the assessed valuation of approximately $50,869,460; sinking fund, two mills, which will raise $101,738.92; and one-half mill for library purposes, $25,434.73. The tax levy for 1934 was 11½ mills.

The 1934 appropriation from general revenue, amounted to $424,756.00. It contained amount for new equipment and tools for CWA and RWD workers. The tax levy was 11½ mills.

The assessed valuation for 1935 was given as $50,869,460, which on a 9-mill basis will bring the city $457,825.14 for general revenue purposes, less an anticipated shrinkage in taxes of 25 per cent ($114,456.28) which would leave a balance of $343,368.86, to which would be added an anticipated $35,135.00 from miscellaneous purposes.

The city anticipates that there

May Extend RFC Two More Years

Prompt Congressional Action Will Be Needed To Save RFC After February 1

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31—A two-year extension of the $5,000,000 RFC was advocated today by Senator Fletcher (D) of Florida.

With the life of the corporation expiring February 1, prompt congressional action will be necessary if it is continued.

With the extension may come authority to permit RFC funds to be used in liquifying the real estate mortgage market and to aid in reorganization of railroads.

Miss Leslie Named As Regular Clerk

Miss Allurah Leslie, substitute clerk at the New Castle post office for some time, on January 1 will advance to the status of regular clerk, Postmaster Richard A. Steen, announced today.

In the office he's a leader, in affairs he's out in front, and to find him in a movement does not mean a tedious hunt. He's a bearcat, he's a lion, and he has a noisy roar, but he drops his brave demeanor when he passes through the door of his home, for there the lady of the house awaits for him, should he dirty up the carpet then her face is dark and grim. No more roaring, no more leading, all that stuff is put away, when he treads the old home carpet, weather's forty three today.

CCC Workers Will Take Deer Census

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Dec. 21.—Some 1,200 Civilian Conservation Corps members were preparing today for their first backwoods "traffic count"—a deer census in the Allegheny National Forest.

Amid the bell and horn clamor of a typical deer "drive," CCC huntsmen within the next few weeks will aim at bounding bucks and does through counting devices instead of rifle sights.

The "census" is designed to establish the relative importance of big game population in comparison with other phases of forest development such as timber protection.

Separate drives will be held in various game regions of the forest, which covers part of McKean, Elk, Forest and Warren counties, four of the state's leading deer divisions.

MORE IDEAS ON USE OF OLD POST OFFICE

Citizens Want Building Used

Library Advocates Seem To Be In Lead In Sentiment

SUPPORTERS GIVE REASONS FOR PLANS

It may be some time before the Federal government decides what it will do with the old post office, but in the meantime the citizens of New Castle are having their say as to what should be done with it.. Whether it should be converted into a library or a city hall is a rather warm question just now with the library apparently having an edge in public sentiment.

John B. Haley, retired druggist, is emphatic in his ideas. "There isn't any reason why the building should be made into a city hall," said he. "It ought to be a library. The building they have just now is inadequate and that's because the board bought a building it never should have. However, that doesn't relieve the situation any."

G. J. Grimm, telegraph operator. "Make a city hall out of it and take the city hall off the main street. The building would make an ideal spot for a city hall."

Carl B. Paisley. "While it is true that it is necessary to climb stairs in the present city hall to get to certain departments it would still be true if the post office were made into a city hall. You couldn't get all the offices on the first floor and further you would have to build a jail. The building should be turned into a library."

Horce P. Stone, tin worker. "There isn't any doubt in my mind as to what should be done with the old post office. Make a library of it. It occurs to me that it probably would be easier to get the government to give it to us for library purposes than it ever would be to get it for a city hall. Further than that, the library facilities are crowded just now and the old post office would satisfy all the needs for many years to come."

Dr. Alec Ruzewich. "We should have a city hall that is an impressive looking building. The old post office would fill this and the other needs. Make it into a city hall.

Don Eckles, salesman. "At times like these and in any other times, a city the size of New Castle deserves an adequate library where people can go for reference books or whatever their reading dictates. Books are an important part of our lives and we should have an adequate library. The old post office should be made into a library."

Lou Reeble, salesman. "Don't we deserve a decent city hall in this city. Look at the present city hall and then ask yourself if this is any credit to the city? With a few changes the old post office would make a real city hall and I hope such disposition is made of it."

Edward J. Davis. "The cultural needs of a city are highly important. A library fills a most important need and a city the size of New Castle rates a library of proper size and facilities. The old post office should be made into a library, in my estimation."

So many people yearn to benefit and uplift all mankind except the ornery people they know.

woman's club request was signed by Mrs. F. F. Urey, chairman; Mrs. O. P. Brown, Mrs. S. W. Perry, Mrs. John G. Northdurft and Margaret Hogan, secretary. The letter said the members recognized the need of a new city building and pledge their future cooperation for this project. The letter added: "However, we think the postoffice building is especially adapted to a library and with small expense of removing partitions can be made into a library of which we can be proud." The petition asked that it be acquired for library purposes.

The other petitions which arrived after council meeting will be probably read at Monday's session.

Pennsylvania Power Club Members Distribute Gifts Last Night

Members of the Pennsylvania Power club held a get-together at the Municpal golf course clubhouse last night. They enjoyed a turkey dinner. A municipal program was presented as follows: Vocal solo, Griff Thomas; trombone and cornet duet, Thomas Cramer and Edward Candioto; piano solo, Frank D. Taylor, Jr., and violin solo, Salvador Cresce. Santa Claus made a visit and Louis B. Round, vice president of the company, delivered an address.

Santa Claus presented the members with toy gifts; and afterward, all the gifts were distributed to needy children.

The club also last night voted formally to change the name from the E. S. & A. club to the Pennsylvania Power club.

conditions, one objective which led to the building's dedication before and not after the holidays.

Assistant Postmaster James G. Leslie, in a check of holiday figures of 1933 and this year, found that for four pre-Christmas mailing days the receipts of last year topped this year's by just $69.32.

Totals for the four days showed this:

For 1934 (from last Saturday to Wednesday): $4,070.94; for 1933 (same four days): $4,140.26.

It was considered a certainty that the 1934 totals would be sent higher than the 1933 totals should the heavy mailing of today continue.

Carriers worked hard today, delivering packs of Christmas cards, and the five regular parcel post trucks, carrying extra helpers, never were idle for long.

Postmaster Steen announced today that "Christmas day, Tuesday, will be a complete holiday for the postal force."

The county relief board reported 40 per cent of the population of Eagle Pass, Tex., living on funds supplied by state relief this summer.

Christmas shopping is entering the 11th hour rush, and New Castle stores are exhibiting a real busy season. More business is being recorded than for some years.

After having such a happy time at a party given for the blind by the Lions Thursday evening, Eddie Brown, Addis street, who was one of the guests, had a painful ending to the evening, as, when he got home he was alighting from the car and he closed the door on his hand, bruising and hurting his fingers badly.

Carelessness on the part of a local motorist held up traffic on North Mill street for about 20 minutes this morning. Operating his auto towards North Mill in search of a parking spot, a local autoist succeeded in finding an open space. As he approached the parking spot, this driver immediately cut in, for fear that the next driver would pull into the space. The result was that the bumper of the man's car became entangled with the front end of another vehicle. It took several men about 20 minutes before the two cars were separated.

FIFTY BLIND ARE GUESTS OF LIONS AT ANNUAL PARTY

Lions and partly by talented blind folk. "America" was sung before dinner and the Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of Highland U. P. church, a Lion, said grace.

An orchestra, led by Grant Parks, played during the dinner hour.

Opens Program

A song period in which Christmas carols were sung by the crowd, with W. O. "Red" Williams directing, opened the evening program after dinner. Mrs. J. L. Reed accompanied at the piano.

With the singing over, President Dr. A. H. Borland assumed charge and extended, in the Lions behalf, a hearty welcome to the blind folk. He wished them the season's greetings.

After introducing Mrs. John A. McNeill, president of the auxiliary, President Borland then presented the evening's chairman, Roy F. Conway, a member of the club's blind work committee.

He welcomed the crowd and, after a few remarks, called upon Ezra D. Marvin, distinguished member of the New Castle club, who is now serving Lionism as district governor of the clubs of this section.

Governor Marvin, after extending his heartiest holiday wishes, spoke of Lionism's objectives. "We exist to serve," he told the guests.

The principal speaker of the evening was Attorney William Cobau, also a Lion, who delivered a humorous address that held the audience at rapt attention. Mr. Cobau's message was purely a product of an imaginative mind and proved the hit of the party.

Guests Perform

After Mr. Cobau's speech, Chairman Conway turned to I. J. Miller, chairman of the musical entertainment part of the evening, and left him to handle the program in which the outstanding blind demonstrated their talents.

The blind folk gave this program:

Piano solos—Eddie Brown.

Selected readings—Dorothy Hunter.

Remarks—Mrs. Frank Gaston.

Piano solos—Jennings B. Latimer.

Remarks—Miss Mary Moorehead.

Vocal duet—Eleanor Stevenson and Frank Straw, with Straw playing the guitar accompaniment.

Accordion solos—Herman Wadlinger.

Closing address—Loy Sumner, Ellwood City.

Performing in addition to the blind were Mrs. R. T. Morris, who sang two vocal solos, and young Richard Krause, who played several harmonica numbers. Mrs. Jay L. Reed accompanied Mrs. Morris on the piano.

The musical ability of the blind folk was well demonstrated and the speeches of Mrs. Gaston, Miss Moorehead and Mr. Sumner conveyed their thanks to the Lions and their ladies for the party. They also spoke of matters of particular interest to the blind.

Distribute Gifts

At the close Mr. Miller turned the program back to Chairman Conway and after a short talk by Mrs. McNeill, head of the auxiliary, the Christmas presents were distributed from a table upon which stood a sparkling Christmas tree.

Mrs. R. F. Conway and Mrs. J. B. Waddington, in charge of blind work for the ladies, distributed the gifts with the aid of Earl Ramsey, chairman of the Lions blind committee, and his committee members Numa Vidal, Joseph Leyde, Dr. R. G. Campbell and Dr. Thomas Shaffer.

Throughout the evening the musical performers were greatly assisted by "Red" Williams, song leader of the club.

The Lions and their wives served as escorts for the blind, calling at the homes for them and accompanying them back at the close of the program.

The affair has been held annually for several years.

Boy Scouts of Troop 3, the First U. P. Troop, gave service for the party last night.

The 40 special guests of the evening were as follows:

Mary Aiello, Samuel Ascione, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Barclay, Eddie Brown, C. A. Campbell, John Clark, Elizabeth A. Crawford, James Criscito, William M. Davies, William Doyle, Miss Catherine Edie, William Fair, Thomas Fontana, Frank Gaston, Mrs. Frank Gaston, Gene Gerber, Gerald Hammill, Mary Harris, Miss Margaret Henderson, Dorothy Hunter, Mrs. Catherine Johnston, Margaret Klingensmith, Richard Krause, Robert Lamm, Jennings B. Kingsford Smith Attempts Record

Conqueror Of Pacific Seeks Transcontinental Flight Record Today

IS WINGING WAY ACROSS NATION

(International News Service)

BURBANK, Cal., Dec. 21.—Sir Charles Kingsford Smith, who has twice flown the trans-Pacific airways between Australia and the United States, today took off here on what may become an attempt to break the existing air records between Los Angeles and New York.

Smith, accompanied by Harry E. Walker, a California rancher, left the field at 4:58 a. m., P. S. T.

The big Lockheed Altair plane, "Lady Southern Cross" which carried Smith on his last trans-Pacific flight, carried 300 gallons of gasoline for its 750-horsepower Wasp motor.

Two More Die Following Riot

Death Toll Raised To Four In Race Rioting At Shelbyville, Tenn.

SON OF VICTIM ATTACKS ORDERLY

(International News Service)

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 21.—The death toll in Wednesday's fierce rioting here rose to four today when Pat Lawes, shot in the head as the mob rushed National Guardsmen, died in the hopsital. Lawes, about 45, is survived by his wife and two children.

A third man, Guilford Freeman, died last night after 45 guardsmen had offered their blood in an effort to save his life.

Feeling ran high as Freeman's body was being moved from the hospital. A son of the dead man attacked a negro orderly who was handling the corpse and would have succeeded in stabbing him but for the heroic action of nurses who grabbed the man and disarmed him.

will be paid in on delinquent 1934 city taxes $19,075.14. There would be derived for sinking fund purposes on a 2-mill basis, $10,738.92, and from one-half mill the library would receive $25,434.73, according to the figures shown to colleagues by Finance Director Hoyland.

Tentative Appropriations

Following council session today Hoyland said that he would probably introduce the budget and tax levy bills Monday.

The appropriations for 1935 compared to 1934, are as follows:

Roosevelt To Have Candles On Christmas Tree

Disregards Safety Hazard In Planning Lights For White House Trees

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The use of lighted candles on Christmas trees may be regarded as unsafe by the fire department but the president of the United States will have them anyhow.

The first lady, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was in New York today, revealed that the president much prefers candles to electricity.

"The president always feels that a tree doesn't look right without candles and hasn't the right atmosphere unless it smells of hot evergreen," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

There will be two trees in the White House this year, Mrs. Roosevelt declared. One of them . . . in the east room on the main floor will be lighted by electricity and will be displayed to the public.

Rescue Ship To Reach New York

Liner Ascania Rescuers Of Eleven Of Crew Of Sunken Freighter, Docks

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Arriving in New York Harbor today will be the Cunard-White Star Liner Ascania, under command of Captain J. G. Bisset, which rescued the eleven surviving members of the shipwrecked British Freighter Usworth 600 miles off Nova Scotia in the North Atlantic. The Ascania landed the Usworth's crew at Halifax before proceeding to New York, a full day behind schedule.

ALABAMA ELEVEN GOES TO COAST

(International News Service)

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 21.—Three teams of husky red elephants from the University of Alabama scrambled aboard a special train and departed for their Rose Bowl contest today.

Nearly three hundred persons accompanied the players who will seek to advance their 7 to 7 tie with Stanford in their tournament play at Pasadena New Year's day.

GIVE FLOWERS

After all, what you give at Christmas is judged more by the spirit than by the material gift. What you are doing is expressing the sentiment of the season, rather than suplying some material need. What, then, can you give that so completely expresses the Christmas spirit as flowers? Any kind of flowers, a bouquet of cut flowers, a corsage or a blooming plant. They brighten the home and the memory of them lingers long after they have faded. This season we have combed the market for the best flowers available. Because of the unusual size of our stock, we can offer them to you at ordinary prices.

INTERESTING PROGRAM AT ART CLUB MEETING

In furthering the theme of their meeting, Thursday, which was that "home is the sphere of harmony and peace," Art club members gathered in the residence of Miss Edith Moore, on Hazelcroft avenue, heard interesting ideas on how to make homes more attractive.

Mrs. R. S. Tannehill discussed the master's bedroom and the guest room, advising color harmony in the choice of wall paper, shades, curtains, drapes, carpets and furniture. She showed beautiful samples of many of these, which brightened her talk and made it extremely interesting.

The room set apart for the boy, or girl, in the family, was the topic assigned Mrs. A. B. Naslund, and she brought out many instructive points, as well as interesting ones, similar to Mrs. Tannehill's. Mrs. George Knox spoke on bathroom fixtures and accessories.

Preceding the program, a number of Christmas carols were sung, led by Mrs. J. A. McNeill, with Miss Adeline Marshall at the piano. Mrs. William Reed was a guest.

During the social period, tea was served in the dining room with the president, Mrs. G. W. Short, pouring. The tea table was beautiful, being centered with a mirror plateau on which stood a silvered tree, with silver balls, around which was placed miniature deer, on glistening cotton to represent a lovely snow scene. About 35 guests were present.

The January meeting will be held on the seventeenth, at the home of Mrs. C. Ed. Smith, Highland avenue.

MRS. FENTON HOSTESS TO HIGHLAND BOOK

In the lovely home of Mrs. E. A. Fenton on Clenmore boulevard, the Highland Book club enjoyed a dessert-bridge Thursday afternoon.

The tables were attractive with colors suggestive of tne season, and after enjoying a dainty menu, tne members exchanged books and played contract. Mrs. Amelia Wilson, who is the house guest of Mrs. George A. Rigby of Wallace avenue, was a visitor.

Mrs. H. C. Harper of Wallace avenue will have the next assembly, on January 3.

READING CIRCLE '06 HAS YULE PROGRAM

The Christmas spirit permeated the meeting of the Reading circle '06, Thursday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. P. K. Fike, on Sheridan avenue.

Quotations in keeping with the season were given in response to roll call after which a delightful program consisted of Christmas carols led by Mrs. J. H. Kocher, and readings were read by Mrs. M. P. Book, from Mrs. John M. Phillips, state president of the Federation of Women's club, and Mrs. H. C. Mitchell contributed a pleasing talk on "Christmas Customs in Many Lands" and an appropriate poem, "Christmas Morn".

Another poem, entitled "The Little Gray Cottage" was offered by Mrs. Fike, followed by a group of comic readings by Mrs. C. N. Lockhart.

The guests were invited to the dining room for refreshments, where tea was poured by Mrs. J. A. Wilson. Mrs. J. H. Griner assisted the hostess. Lovely decorations were carried out in red and green tones.

On January 10, the next meeting will be with Mrs. E. C. Morrow, of Walnut street.

MOTHERS' CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY

Thursday evening the green room of the Y. W. C. A. was beautifully suggestive of the Christmas spirit with its decorations of evergreens and glowing red candles as the Italian Mothers' club had its annual Yuletide party.

Miss Lillian Braham led the women in a period of games, after which gifts were exchanged and then Mrs. J. Elder Bryan, advisor to the women, was presnted with a beautiful pair of Marieda pillow slips in recognition of her services the past year.

The women then went to the tables, which were prettily arranged for the serving of a delicious menu, which carried out the Christmas colors.

At the January 3 meeting there will be an election of officers.

Smith-Bobst

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Smith of New Wilmington, R. D. No. 1, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Maurice H. Bobst of Honesdale, Pa. The wedding took place on Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Bobst is a graduate of Westminster College, class of 1927, and is a member of the Chi Omega Sorority.

Mr. Bobst is a graduate of Stroudsburg College and is a teacher in the high school at Honesdale, Pa.

SHOWERS HONOR NOVEMBER BRIDE

Mrs. George Orme, Warren, O., a bride of November, who was formerly Miss Jean Harris of this city, has been honored this week at some pretty post-nuptial events.

Tuesday evening Miss Ruth Maybray of Morton street entertained at dinner for her, when she shared honors with her mother, Mrs. Mamie Harris. The dinner table was dainty in pink and white appointments.

Bridge formed the entertainment of the evening, with Jean Bloomer and Margaret Jackson winning the bridge prizes. Mrs. Orme was presented wtih a shower of miscellaneous gifts for her new home.

Thursday evening Mrs. Orme was honor guest at a party in the home of Mrs. Carl Horner, 112 West Madison avenue, which was gaily decorated in the colorful reds and greens of the season.

Cards were played during the evening, with the high score awards going to Miss Ruth Maybray and Mrs. Harry Wiley. The honored one received some lovely gifts in the form of a shower.

Refreshments suggested by the season were served by the hostess, with Mrs. Mamie Harris as her aide.

BESTYETTE BRIDGE YULETIDE PARTY

Members of the Bestyette Bridge Club enjoyed their annual Yuletide party at the home of Mrs. Samuel Frank, Meyer avenue, on Thursday evening, the occasion being featured with the exchange of lovely gifts.

Bridge occupied the leisure period the prize for high score being captured by Mrs. David Leonardson.

In serving a delicious lunch at a beautifully appointed table, the decorations being attractively arranged in Yuletide suggestions, the hostess was assisted by Dorothy Boyles.

In two weeks the girls will meet again, the place to be announced.

WE-FU-BRIDGE CLUB LUNCHEON GUESTS

Mrs. Louis Southern of Highland avenue, entertained at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon Thursday afternoon, members of the We-Fu-Bridge club. The occasion was in the form of a Yuletide party, and gifts were exchanged.

The hostess was showered with dainty handkerchiefs, in remembrance of her birthday anniversary.

Bridge formed the diversion during the remaining hours, prizes being captured by Mrs. Alfred Williams and Mrs. Harry Carlson at conclusion of play.

In two weeks, Mrs. Harvey Booher of Garfield avenue will receive members.

Home From Princeton

Robert Aiken and David Long returned today from Princeton University to spend the holidays with their parents, Mrs. Robert K. Aiken, of Highland avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. David H. Long, of Shaw street. Charles Nolan, Jr., arrived earlier to be at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nolan, of Sheridan avenue.

Will Observe Golden Wedding On Christmas

MR. AND MRS. ELROY E. CRAMER

Christmas day, this year of 1934, will be an especially happy one for Mr. and Mrs. Elroy E. Cramer, of County Line street, as it will mark their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Back in 1884, the couple was married in this city, on December 25, the Rev. Rich officiating. They have resided in New Castle many of the years since. They have four children, eleven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

One of the daughters is Mrs. H. W. Lockley, who will hold "open house" for the esteemed couple from 2 to 4 o'clock, on Christmas day, at her home 727 County Line street. Other children are Miss Sue E. Cramer, Arch W. Cramer, Leonard E. Cramer, all of this city.

FIELD CLUB PARTIES FOR YULETIDE SEASON

In observance of the Yuletide seeason, members of the New Castle Field club will have the privilege of attending a number of attractive parties, arranged especially for their entertainment during the holiday period.

On Christmas night, a dance will be held in the club ballroom starting at 9:30 o'clock, the first of the series which will be a means of launching the season's activities.

On New Year's Eve, beginning at 10 o'clock, another dance frolic will be featured in the beautifully decorated club rooms, and at this occasion, a buffet lunch will be served. A splendid orchestra has been engaged for both affairs.

Of further interest, is the regular Thursday evening bridge, this to take place on Friday, December 28, instead of Thursday, as previously planned. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Street will be hosts. Prizes will be awarded and lunch served.

New Year's Day, at the Field club, is always observed with "Open House" and fairly hums with gaiety. This year will be no exception, as it will again be featured for the entertainment of members. A dessert-bridge will be in order at 2:30 o'clock for both men and women. Mr. and Mrs. William S. Wheeler are announced as hosts.

The regular ladies' dessert-bridge will be an event of Wednesday afternoon, January 2, with Mrs. J. H. Gibson and Mrs. James Stone, hostesses. This will be in progress promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

It is expected that Field club members with their out-of-town guests, will attend these occasions, in capacity crowds, as the Yuletide season is one that is looked forward to with much celebration.

P-12-P Club News

Mrs. Marshall Budzowski of Jackson avenue, was hostess to members of the P-12-P club members at a Christmas party Wednesday evening.

The hours were informally whiled away with bridge, honor scores being held by Mrs. Peter Klamut and Mrs. Frederick Droeder.

Mrs. Stanley Augustyn, a special guest, was presented with a lovely hostess gift.

After the serving of refreshments, they adjourned to meet on Wednesday, January 2 at the home of Miss Stella G. Cwynar on Wilder avenue. This occasion will be a celebration in observance of their sixth anniversary.

ELLWOOD CLUB MEMBERS HAS CLUB IN NEW HOME

Mrs. Harley Maskrey was hostess to the W. M. L. H. club Wednesday evening at her new home in Ellwood City. The hours were spent with bridge, the "jumping" prize going to Mrs. Joseph McCaskey and high prize to Miss Freda Ungar.

At a late hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch, assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Blews. A seasonal centerpiece decorated the table and places were marked with individual novelty candles and holders in red and green, which made a pretty sight when lighted. An added feature was an exchange of holiday gifts, each guest receiving a beautiful remembrance.

On Saturday, December 22, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boughton will entertain the club with husbands and friends, at a Yuletide party, at their home on South Ray street. Mrs. Clyde Mallory, of Ellwood City, will be hostess for the next regular meeting January 9.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB HAS YULETIDE PARTY

Conforming with the spirit of the season, members of the Junior Woman's club held a delightful Christmas party Thursday evening, at the West Washington street home of Miss Ina Tucker. Mrs. Dale Andrews, Misses Agnes Webster and Ingeborg Hallgren were the committee in charge.

Bridge was the chief pastime, the pretty favors falling to Misses Esther Levine and Shirley Holbrook. Red and green tones predominated in appointments for luncheon, following the card games.

On January 3, Miss Mary E. Wilson, of Boyles avenue, will be hostess.

Open Door Class Party.

Blinking and winking a "Merry Christmas" to all was the tree in the hall of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Millison, Maryland avenue, Thursday evning when the members of the Open Door class of the Third U. P. church were received for the Yuletide party. In addition to the tree, the Christmas festive spirit was furthered by the decorations in the other rooms of the home.

Mrs. Nora Mimmel presided after Howard Duncan had opened the devotionals. A. J. Minnick, the teacher, was presented wtih a lovely gift in appreciation of his work the past year.

The social committee, Mrs. George Kuder and Mrs. Howard Burdette, conducted a period of games, with Mildred Bixler and Mrs. Harry Beighley winning the prizes. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beighley of Ellwood City and Mrs. A. J. Minnick.

In serving refreshments Mrs. Millison was assisted by Mrs. Burdette.

Club Reorganized.

Members of the Berkmah club met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. John Darby on Hillcrest avenue and re-organized into what will be known as the Les Bridgeurs club.

The girls enjoyed a contest in cards, prizes being won by Dolores Gould and Mrs. Catherine VanDyke.

In serving a delicious repast, the hostess was assisted by Gertrude Wolf, a special guest of the members, who was presented with a lovely gift by the hostess. Christmas decorations were used throughout in a novel manner, in the table appointments.

Their next meeting will occur on Thursday, January 3, with Muriel Edmunds on North Mercer street.

Saturday

Kupple Kard Klub, Mrs. Weldon Zeigler, Rose avenue

Little Childhood club, Betty May Callahan, Garfield avenue.

W. M. L. H., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boughton, S. Ray street; Christmas party.

Make Your Newsboy Happy. Pay Him Up In Full Saturday Or Monday.

LEAVING FOR SOUTH SATURDAY MORNING

When Christmas rolls around this year, there are among the local residents who will be spending it in the sunshine of Florida, Mrs. Howard Kelley of 2101 Highland avenue and Mrs. Herbert Rose and son Jack of Beckford street. They will leave Saturday morning via motor, and locate in the heart of Miami, returning to this vicinity the first of May.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Mills, daughter Alice and son Charles Jr., of Boyles will leave New Castle tomorrow morning for Florida, where they will make their future home.

Enjoy Christmas Party

What proved to be a delightful event was a Christmas party held by the members of the Children of Mary Sodality of Croton, in the home of Miss Lavina Pia, of Croton avenue, Thursday evening.

Games and music were the chief pastimes. Exchanging of gifts among the members, featured the evening. Mrs. Guerino Buonpane, formerly Rose Pavia, was presented with a useful gift on behalf of the organization. Delicious refreshments were served by Annetta Morgan, Lavina Pia, Elizabeth Massaro and Eva Maley.

Christmas Party.

Games, music and needlework were avenues of amusement for members of the G. N. club, who were entertained Wednesday evening by Mrs. J. Sonsisti of South Mill street. Mrs. Clotilda Ross and Mrs. Ida Semione sang a duet and Christina Lombardo gave a solo dance. Gifts were exchanged previous to luncheon, serving which the hostess' daughters, Mary and Katherine, aided.

The next meeting wil be on January 9 at the home of Mrs. Clotilda Ross on Lutton street. This will be featured by an election of officers.

ELEVENTH HOUR RUSH IS STARTED

PARTIES and social engagements are off and meals are infrequent affairs in the average American home between now and Monday night. The last grand rush to get Christmas buying completed is on and downtown New Castle looks like a street fair.

Each day has seen an increase in the population of the stores. Crowds milling around on each others feet, harassed clerks endeavoring to wait on six people at once and nobody complaining at the jostling. There's something about Christmas shopping that eliminates the desire to poke an umbrella in the other fellow's eye when he steps on your feet. It's a mad scramble to get under the wire before Santa Claus starts down the chimney and the field is crowded with entries.

This Christmas looks more like Christmas was before the crash. People are shopping in larger numbers, stores are turning over more stock, and the Christmas tree sales indicate a green Christmas for New Castle despite the weather outside.

Electric candle light is making its appearance in the homes, wreaths are livening the windows and the red and green color motif of the season is everywhere. It's the Christmas season and the every day cynicism of a busy world is forgotten for the moment while all of us shop for toys and handkerchieves and boxed candy.

The churches are preparing for appropriate services, organizations are announcing their Christmas party dates, and around your house there is an air of mystery that will not be fathomed until Christmas morning.

After seeing the rush of shoppers and the preparations for Christmas one cannot help but believe that through the dark clouds of depression the sunshine is beginning to peek. People seem to have faith that better times are truly coming.

JAPAN BURNS HER BRIDGES

The die has been cast. The plunge has been taken. At a meeting of the Japanese Privy Council, in the presence of the Emperor, it has been formally decided to denounce the Washington Naval Treaty of 1922, procedure which will terminate the provisions of the treaty two years hence.

This action, of course, is not in the least surprising. It was forecast weeks ago. The dissatisfaction of Japan with the 5-5-3 ratio was apparent almost from the beginning. Until the delegates gathered to discuss the matter in London it was hoped that some compromise would be reached. But Japan yielded nothing. She sought to win a triumph only by the complete surrender of the United States and Great Britain. An agreement of this kind would have been bought at too dear a cost.

The assurances that the Japanese will strive to conclude a new treaty are meaningless. Certainly the United States will not change its mind within a year; and, in spite of the maneuvers of Mr. MacDonald and Sir John Simon, there is small reason to believe that Great Britain will do so. The Japanese Navy as it stands is ample for any legitimate purpose. It is supreme in its own waters. It can defend the nation from any conceivable peril which it does not bring upon itself. No other nation has the slightest desire to attack Japan. If the other parties to the treaty refuse to change the ratio, it is because such a change would expose them to Japanese aggression.

Look at the conditions. Japan is a compact empire, well fortified by land and sea. In order that she might have no doubt of her safety under the ratio, the other Powers agreed not to maintain naval bases that would threaten her. Nowhere along the Asian coast or in Australia is there any danger. The United States has left the Philippines and Hawaii unfortified, and even Guam, a natural naval base and the key of the Pacific.

Why, then, must Japan have a navy equal to those of England and the United States? Such a navy she does not need, unless she has designs which she can not hope to accomplish until every obstacle to them is removed. Manchukuo is perhaps one case in point.

With the ratio discarded, what will happen? For one thing, Japan will build a larger navy with more modern ships. This will mean an increase of tonnage over the United States of some 250,000, and over Great Britain of some 300,000—to say nothing of the modern ships in prospect. If all this under-age tonnage be considered, a new Japanese navy on the higher ratio would eventually leave the American and British far behind. The answer is obvious. There will undoubtedly be a definite and comprehensive program in the United States and Great Britain, with the objective of maintaining leadership.

The policy of the United States, at least, is perfectly plain. A program for building up to full treaty strength has already been laid out. If necessary it can be extended. We could build ship for ship with Japan, and more. She has not the resources to stand the competition. The world will be reluctant to see another armament race, from economic and idealistic standpoints, but what is to be done when the devil drives?

The Washington Treaty was a brave attempt to avert such a catastrophe. The United States led the way in the sacrifice of tonnage; she put all her cards on the table. Only the insatiable vanity and greed of Japan have made this noble effort vain.

The ultimate results of the denunciation can not yet be foreseen. That they will be grave can not be doubted. But the chief victim will be Japan herself.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Do your 1935 Christmas shopping and mailing early and avoid the crowds.

CONQUER YOURSELF? . . NO!

You tell me, sincerely and earnestly, that in order to be happy in this life, I must conquer myself.

As sincerely, as earnestly as you, I say you are mistaken.

Why must I conquer myself before I can be decent, worthwhile and happy?

What's wrong with "myself" that I should look upon it as my enemy, as an obstacle to a better way of living?

Have I two sides, the better and the worse, in me? Am I two people, the friend and the enemy, the foolish and the wise, the humble and the arrogant, the kind and the cruel. Am I two people in one? . . . Is that what you are trying to say to me? . . . I must conquer MYSELF, you say? That means, then, that MYSELF is my antagonist and I must beat him down, chain him, imprison him, force him to sign some invisible pledge of decency before I can ever be what I want to become.

* * *

I do not believe it. You are mistaken. . . . O yes, I know your hundred reasons. Talk to me of the dual nature of man, quote from a thousand books, crib from the meanderings of the philosophers, overwhelm me with arguments. . . . Still I shall be stubborn, immovable. Still I shall believe that MYSELF is not evil, stupid, ignorant, vain and arrogant. MYSELF is always trying to be good, trying to be fair, trying to be wise, trying to be the decent part of me. . . . In my life I have met no man or woman who was not trying, yearning, to be good. I shall never meet any human creature who does not have that instinct in his heart to be better than he seems to be. I need not conquer myself, I must help myself!

But, you say, every man lives many lives, has many sides to his character. He is frivolous, he is serious, he is wasteful, he is economical, he is impulsive, he is thoughtful. He is all things in one, but he lives just one life, not many. He is one man, not a host. He is one self, not many, and that one self is the better part of him, not the worst. . . . No matter what you may say, I shall not try to conquer MYSELF!

QUESTIONING

I wonder if this life can ever be Richer with joys than those we now possess?
If men who long shall follow you and me
Shall add one mite to human happiness?

Is life withholding something from us all,
Something of joy which other men shall gain
And once released shall make this earthly ball
Another Eden free from care and pain?

Or has life shown us all it has to give?
And has man's blundering strewn the world with woe?
Have we so filled with strife the days we live
That we've no time life's ample joys to know?

I think this life itself will never change.
What may occur sometimes, and soon I pray,
Is that the minds of men will rearrange
Their muddled standards of a well spent day.

They may discover just how vain a thing
Is that false pride for which they madly strive.
Then wanting less they'll find the time to sing
With happier hearts the joy of being alive.

TIME BRINGS MANY SOCIAL AND PHYSICAL CHANGES

If you have not been back to the old town in some years, be prepared for many surprises and some disappointments.

You may be shocked and saddened by the appearance of some of your old friends.

The girl who was a prim young miss in your time may now, with the passing of years, be careless of her appearance.

The one you thought so good-natured and happy may have soured and become rather sarcastically inclined.

The fellow you thought had the best chance of amounting to something as a respectable and useful citizen may have become the town's most habitual loafer.

The boy living near the railroad tracks whose father filled a menial position may have the place of a respected influential citizen.

Well-to-do families may have gone into another class; you can remember when they were counted among the leading people in that town.

Some have advanced beyond your conception, and others may have been a flash in the pan and now are stodgy, dull-minded lumps of discouragement.

The harem-scarem girl is now the best mother and leader of cultural groups.

Your old pals are so changed you have little in common with them, while they think you have not turned out as well as you should.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:38. Sun rises tomorrow 7:18.

Getting into the new postoffice will be harder than getting into the old one if the parking is not curtailed in front of it.

If they just let things alone for a while in Washington prosperity will come back. People are afraid to spend money now when they don't know what will happen the next day. Prosperity always has come back and it will if we let it.

How much folks hate publicity depends upon what they have been doing.

Bobby, as the story is given to us, was an untamed cub and raised a ruckus in the toy department. Finally he jumped on a big rocking horse and started off at a full gallop, while his mother looked on proudly and everyone else ground his teeth. Just when it appeared that he was out to wreck the place, Santa Claus came down off his throne and threw loving arms around the litle nuisance. Smiling benignly, he whispered softly in Bobby's ear.

The fond mother, reciting the day's adventures for father's benefit at the dinner table, recalled the incident and told how Santa had warmed up to the darling. "He even came down from his throne,' said mother, "threw his arms around Bobby, and whispered a secret in his ear."

"Is that so?" exclaimed Dad. "What'd he say, Bobby?"

"He said, 'Git t' 'ell off 'at horse.'"

It is said that Col. Lindbergh always carries a revolver now. After what he has gone through he could not be blamed if he carried a few cannons.

These are times when the Jonesses whom we like to keep up with have a hard time setting the pace.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

Bernard Baruch, the financier, and Herbert B. Swope, the journalist, are always kidding each other. In phoning the other, one is prone to announce: This is Mussolini calling", or something equally as ridiculous.

Once before the presidential election, while in the company of Winston Churchill, Baruch was summoned to the phone.

"President Hoover is on the phone," he was told.

He winked at Churchill and according to a New York newspaper, this is the conversation that ensued:

Baruch: "How are you, you big cheese!"

Voice: "Did you say chief or cheese?"

Baruch: "I said cheese. I know who I am talking to."

Voice: "This is President Hoover."

And it was!

Some of the best stories Dad takes home he hears at the round table conference.

The girl out our way with the terrible looking riding habit has got worse ones than that.

Hundreds of thousands of automobile licenses have been taken out in Pennsylvania so far this year. Looks as if the roads are going to be busy again next year.

There ought not to be so much objection to one piece bathing suits. Certainly a girl's got to wear something.

Lady skaters have adopted a style of dress which enables them to counteract any ill effect from cold. The fashion for the season will be high jackets of Astrakhan, small hats and dresses looped up short enough to display the feet.

The brazen hussies!

Still, if a mean cop hunting a bandit should pick up and finger-print Santa Claus, that would be a criminal record.

We are glad to note that the prisoners convicted at the last term of court will not be sentenced until after January 1. It always seemed to us that handing out the sentences for a Christmas gift was just altogether justified.

Rastus and Liza were roller skating when suddenly Liza fell, but flopped over and came up again with remarkable agility. "Did you all see how quick ah recovered mah equilibrium?" she asked.

"Ah sho did," he answered, "and almost before ah noticed it was uncovered."

May the vast future not have to lament that you have neglected it.—Abraham Lincoln.

Nothing relieves and ventilates the mind like a resolution.—John Burroughs.

The main reason why calendars are not given away so freely now as formerly is that they cost a lot of money.

He probably isn't a real celebrity if he never has felt the urge to kill the photographer.

This is the best time to plant evergreens, hardy bulbs and bandits.

We have noticed that after murderers get arrested they start reading the Bible. It's a bit late then, but might help some later for all anybody knows.

A Beaver county man says his wife has had him arrested fifty-two times. Lots of gals would feed that baby a soothing lotion to save trips to the justice's office.

The chief fault of a republic is that you don't know who to get mad at when your affairs go sour.

Women must have bigger hearts. No man can love a person he has to bawl out every hour.

"You put the bill where it will be sure to attract Mr. Slopay's attention, didn't you?" asked the boss.

"Yes sir, I sure did,' 'answered the errand boy. "I stuck a pin in it and put it on his chair."

PAGING MACKEREL MIKE

Dear Hints and Dints: Do the biggest fish always get away, or almost always? It seems to me that it is only in that way that they live to get BIG. Look at it from the fish's viewpoint. If fish converse, and you've got to prove to me that they don't—or why would they travel in schools?—those big old fish must tell the younger fry blood-curdling tales of how they allowed some smart aleck to get them on a hook and how they dallied with them for hours and then eluded him.

FLOSSIE'S FAST

Miss Flossie Fernfrill certainly had a snappy comeback ready yesterday when one of her acquaintances put her on the pan, so to speak, in Miss Flossie's beauty shoppe.

The girl acquaintance, who, incidently, has more beauty than brains, had been looking for a job in Miss Flossie's shoppe, but could not be found when a vacancy turned up, and when she saw Miss Flossie there were words.

"Where were you?" asked Miss Flossie.

"Oh, hither and yon," said the job-seeker, airily.

"That's the trouble," said Miss Flossie. "When I wanted you to come hither you were yawning."

Later Miss Flossie, speaking confidentially to the Corner's editor, remarked:

"And that's not solely a play on words, either."

LET THEM WRANGLE

Let them wrangle o'er the Gospel,
Every man his faith defend.
But, I have a moral for you—hold it—live it—to the end.

Never strive to harm a weakling;
learn to curb a poisoned tongue,
Never fatten off the needy; never break a heart you've won.

Never stoop to outrage nature; if you swear, don't be obscene.
When you sin, don't sin unfairly; acts that err can still be clean.

Make them happy who surround you; bring them sunshine when you're near.
Make them glad to feel they know you and what—I ask—have you to fear?

Naught there is the gods will punish, be it free from lust and greed.
So let them wrangle—we'll remember these golden threads from every creed.

The World At A Glance

Make Industry More Constant.
Peaks And Valleys Must Go.
Secret Treaties On Trade.

Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—If the government can level off the peaks and the valleys in the automobile industry, then one of the chief problems of all industries will have been solved. But, in solving this, the government, in the long run, may abolish the profit system—unintentionally.

For, carried to its last analysis, if industries are operated on a constant level, with regulations forbidding "dog eat dog" competitive policies, and with the worker insured a steady job and a larger cutin on -profits, there will be less for stockholders and owners. It cannot be otherwise. If a corporation cannot operate its plant at high speed seasonally and cut down at other times, net profits (for the owners) will of necessity begin to disappear.

* * *

PROPHECY

All prophecy, however, concerning such an evolutionary business as the automobile industry is in vain. The rules promulgated for the automobile industry are likely to be applied first to some other industries, and the effects will be observable in those industries prior to any marked change in the automobile industry.

Only a year ago even Henry Ford himself remarked that henceforth industry—especially his industry—would begin to decentralize, from large units in large centers to small units in small centers.

Yet today Ford is spending millions on plant additions in Detroit—and General Motors and Chrysler are doing likewise.

Today the centralization movement within these three monopolistic corporations is stronger than ever—and weaker companies are having a severe struggle.

* * *

UNREST

And today workers evidently are less satisfied than ever.

We quote from the headlines of a large conservative newspaper—headlines telling of American Federation of Labor witnesses before the government's committee making an investigation into the problems of the automobile industry for President Roosevelt.

Here are the headlines:

"A. F. of L. hits auto labor conditions. Charges workers are unable to earn living wage; calls piecework system unfair. Ford's average annual wage is put at $650. General Motors, Dodge and Chrysler also assailed at NRA hearing."

And we read this headline in the New York Times:

" 'Terror' charged by auto workers. 'Espionage', low wages and 'Speed Up' described to the Roosevelt inquiry board. Fear of losing jobs told. A. F. of L. proposal for $1,500-a-year-pay and 30-hour week is made at Detroit hearing."

* * *

TRADE PACT?

In these days of extreme nationalism in virtually all countries, that which is normal is likely to be denounced as criminal and that which is abnormal is likely to be declared patriotic.

Thus, when nations try to resume normal trade relations, to relieve distress among the masses of all countries, prejudice and nationalism sweep aside the efforts.

And treaties that ought to be negotiated in the open are negotiated secretly by frightened and timid politicians who pull the strings of statecraft.

We quote a small piece from a London paper:

"Lieutenant Colon l Colville, secretary of overseas trade, refused to divulge in the house of commons last night whether the government were planning a trade agreement with America.

" 'The government,' he said, 'must be the judge of which countries they intend to open negotiations with, and it is not in the public interest to make a premature disclosure.' "

* * *

SOUNDS AMERICAN

The British also have an agricultural minister in the cabinet who seems "radical". His woes sound much like those of American Secretary of Agriculture Wallace:

We read in a London paper:

"Mr. Elliot, minister of agriculture, admitted that his milk scheme is not yet a success.

" 'A strong case,' he said, 'might be made against many of the details of the milk scheme, and they may have to be modified before this great experiment can be successfully applied.'

"But Mr. Elliot stoutly defended the principles of the scheme.

"The government, he said, were trying desperately hard to find some agricultural policy that would find continuity in the nation.

"They were building on a foundation which would enable agriculture to be taken out of party politics.

" 'I have striven hard to do that,' he added. 'I have taken action which has caused qualms and misgivings in the minds of many Conservatives.'

"The extent of these Conservative misgivings was revealed by Mr. Holdsworth (Liberal, Bradford), who said he had seen a letter written by the agent of a Conservative M. P.

"The agent reported that one of the government's most loyal supporters had refused to contribute another penny to party funds because of Mr. Elliot's activities.

"Mr. Elliot was replying to the Liberal amendment to the address, moved by Mr. Dingle Foot) Liberal, Dundee).

"Mr. Foot's attack was directed against 'government by ministerial answer.'

"He claimed that ministers had too much power."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A PENNY'S WORTH

At the children's hospital, Johnny was the terror of the ward. He was always in trouble. One day a weekly visitor, who knew his character, said to him:

"Johnny, if you are good for a week, I'll give you six-pence when I come again."

A week later she stood before Johnny's bed again.

"Well," she said, "I'm not going to ask the nurses if you behaved. You must tell me yourself. Do you deserve the six-pence?"

There was a moment's silence. Then from among the sheets a small voice said:

"Gimme a penny."

Bible Thought For Today

For the rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.—Psalm 125:3.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21

The World War Day-By-Day—Dec. 21, 1914—Przemysl was undergoing its second terrible seige. It was the mightiest of Austria's eastern fortifications, and it had 120,000 soldiers within its fortifications, more than enough. Yet its strength was its weakness. It could not feed so many men, in addition to 20,000 civilian population, through a long seige.

The flight of the Austro-Hungarian before the onrushing army to the protection of Przemysl Russian horde had been so precipitate that the military authorities in Przemysl had no time to clear the civil population out of the city, or to provide sufficient food for a long seige. Butchering of horses, to provide meat and save fodder had to begin almost immediately. Winter clothing supplies were short, too.

Przemysl lacked both planes and air defenses. Russian airmen circled the fortress without hindrance, dropping bombs and observing everything that was being done below to prepare for the inevitable attack.

Nicholas Snowden, who was to be a New York barber 20 years later and write a book—"Memoirs of a Spy"—of his war experiences, was in Przemysl on this 21st. He was to recall a Russian night bombardment:

"The city by way of comparison suggested nothing but an island surrounded by volcanoes from which eruptions were occurring all at the same time. Smoke and the glare of flame filled the sky....I thought of Pompeii and the citizens who faced their last hours there so many centuries ago. The next moment I felt as if I were in the courtyard of a madhouse whose inmates had just freed themselves from confinement, rushing about aimlessly and then disappearing in all directions in darkness....Horses of an ammunition wagon took fright and crashed into an ambulance. In the same instant a courier on a motorcycle plunged headlong into the wreckage of the overturned wagons. Mingled curses and cries for helps added to the confusion, but it was only an incident in the general turmoil."

History-Up-To-Date — Dec. 21, 1620—The Pilgrims landed; that is, some of them did. It was to be four months later before all of those on the Mayflower on her first trip were ashore.

They had left their homes in England 12 years before, and they had been in the New World for six weeks before they chose to settle down and start a communistic colony at the spot which Capt. John Smith had named Plymouth years before. They bought the land from Smith's employers, the London Company, for $9,000.

QUOTA CLUB PARTY AT CRAWFORD OAKRIDGE

Quota club members entertained at their annual Christmas party in the Crawford Oakridge Home Thursday evening. The occasion was successfully arranged by Mrs. Julia Hrdina, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Reva Gormley, Miss Martha Bigley and Miss Neva Moore.

Quota club members turned out in a large number, giving greetings to members of the A. B. D. Girls of the First Presbyterian church, also representatives of the Shrine, both organizations taking an active part in supplying beautiful gifts, as well as Quota members.

Mr. E. Brown played the role of old St. Nick to perfection in distributing the toys to the youngsters that were arranged beneath the huge Christmas tree, which completed the inside setting with its silver ornaments.

The youngsters of the home favored their guests with an entertaining program that was well received. Those taking part follow: A recitation, by Agnes Bell Wrona; quartet selections, Lillian Badilla, Dorothy Gordon, Anna and Lena Devako; solo, entitled "Star of Light", by Anna Devako; "Christmas Wish" by Harry Williams; song by Peter Denako; recitation, "Santa Claus", by Nellie Gordon; song, Lillian Badilla; recitation, by Warren Blair; "Christmas Greetings" by Albert Lester, and readings by Carl Standish and Blaire Gorman. The entire group joined in singing "Away in the Manger" and "Little Star of Bethlehem" followed with an appropriate closing reading by Dorothy Gordon.

A delicious lunch was served, the table appointments being attractively carried out in keeping with the Yuletide season.

On Thursday evening, December 27, Quota club members will assemble for a dinner meeting in a tea room on North street at 6 o'clock.

HYDE-MINNIGH WEDDING SOON

Frances Alene Hyde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hyde, of 1201 Wilmington avenue, has selected Wednesday, December 26, at high noon for her marriage to Wendell Ellsworth Minnigh, of Boston, Mass.

The wedding will be quietly solemnized in the presence of the immediate families, in the chapel, at Parker's Landing, of which the prospective groom's father Rev. Elmer O. Minnigh, is pastor.

PARLEY VOUS CLUB HOLIDAY GATHERING

Mrs. W. S. Caskey, of Mt. Jackson, again proved herself a charm-hostess to members of the Parley Vous club Thursday evening when she entertained at their annual Christmas party.

The guests arrived at an early hour, and gathered about the huge Christmas tree with its attractive trimmings of silver, red and green, where they exchanged gifts.

An informal period of games, in charge of Mrs. Violet Flack and Mrs. Erma Peterson, enlivened the leisure moments, and following, the hostess served a delicious lunch. She was assisted by her daughter, Willa. All appointments were suggestive of the holiday, and novel favors marked each place.

The occasion also was in the form of a farewell honoring Mrs. Carl Wright, who will leave the first of the year for a two months' visit in California. She was presented with a lovely remembrance.

The next meeting of club members will be held Thursday, January 3, with Mrs. Jack Dunlap, of Court street.

Bestyette Bridge

An enjoyable Christmas party was held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Samuel Frank Meyer avenue, for members of the Bestyette Bridge Club. The evening was pleasantly spent in card playing the prize for honors going to Mrs. David Leonardson.

The exchange of gifts was a feature of the evening, and the hostess served a tasty lunch. She was aided by Miss Dorothy Boyles with the menu, which was enjoyed by candlelight. Novel decorations in keeping with the Yuletide season, were used throughout.

In two weeks, club members will meet, the place to be announced.

Young Matrons Club

Members of the Young Matrons Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Andrew Cangey, Thursday evening. After a short business session the remaining time was spent in card playing. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. N. Cangey.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Sam Spencer, Liberty street, on December 27.

CATHEDRAL CHAPTER OFFICERS HAVE PARTY

A party of special interest which took place Thursday afternoon, was the Yuletide event given by Cathedral Chapter, No. 440, O. E. S., Mrs. Edna West, worthy matron, and her corps of officers, in the Elks club rooms.

The occasion was in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon, and the Yule season was evident with the lovely table decorations. Miniature novelty Christmas trees were found at each place and the center of the table was equally as attractive with tapers in green, and other ornaments.

Following the serving of a delicious menu, the guests exchanged gifts and the remaining hours were devoted to bridge and 500. The high score prize was carried off by Mrs. I. M. Henley at conclusion of play.

FORTNIGHTERS CLUB GUESTS AT JACKSONS

Miss Julia Ann Jackson was a charming hostess last evening to her associates of the Fortnighters club, when they assembled for their annual Christmas party. Cards were featured, trophies for honors being won by Bernie Semler and Betty Johnston. Miss Bertha Rosen was a special guest.

During the course of the evening, gifts were exchanged, and later, the hostess' mother, Mrs. Henry Jackson, assisted by Mrs. Flora DeVassie, served a tempting lunch. The table was attractively arranged with Christmas suggestions.

In two weeks, club members will be received in the home of Betty Johnston at 412 Leasure avenue.

O. M. K. CLUB GUESTS AT NEW BEDFORD

Most enjoyable was the meeting of the O. M. K. club members Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Nettie Harry at New Bedford. She entertained at a delightful Yuletide party, with gifts being exchanged as the feature. Following, the guests turned their attention to cards, three tables being in play. The season's tones were effectively used in the table decorations, where a delectable menu of refreshments was later served.

In two weeks, members will be received by Mrs. Tillie Hartman at a town tea room for an evening gathering, this marking their next regular event.

Women's Class Party.

The Women's Bible class of the Nazarene church had its Christmas party Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Claude Sisley, Birt avenue, with the group singing Christmas carols as an opening of the program.

Mrs. C. F. Whetsell read the scripture story of the birth of Christ and Mrs. W. W. Walls offered the prayer. Readings were given by Mrs. Myrtle McGallen, Mrs. Merritt Downing and Mrs. Whetsell. The song, "We Three Kings" was presented by Mesdames McGallen, I. Thomas and P. Jacobs.

The women were then invited to the dining room, where refreshments were served from a table appointed in the Yuletide decorations. The women exchanged gifts and presented the teacher, Mrs. Merritt Downing, with a lovely gift of appreciation for her services the past year. She responded most graciously. Mrs. Elizabeth Irwin was a special guest.

Party At Hanna's.

Thursday evening Miss Hazel Hanna, Park avenue, received the girls of the Willing Workers class of the Second U. P. church at her home for the annual Yuletide party, with Marian Campbell and Julia Carothers as her associate hostesses.

Business preceded a social hour when the guests were invited to the dining room, where a table was centered with a sparkling snow man, and about him were arranged numerous packages, one for each member. Great pleasure was derived from opening these and thanking the donors.

A tray lunch was served, with each tray lavishly decorated in the season' suggestions.

January 17 Misses Elsie and Leola Johnson will be hostesses at their Winslow avenue home.

T. M. T. Club Meets

One of the most delightful Christmas parties of the week occurred on Thursday evening in the home of Miss Lee Gaibis on DuShane street, when she received the members of the T. M. T. club.

Cards and music were enjoyed. Club prizes were awarded to Elizabeth Lombardo and Virginia Marcella. During the course of the evening, useful gifts were exchanged among the members. Miss Joanna Ross was a special guest.

Late in the evening the hostess served dainty refreshments. Miss Nora Campoli will entertain the club in two weeks.

Ritz Club

Ritz club members were guests, Thursday evening, of Mrs. James Bartlett, of Robinson street, the affair partaking the nature of a Yuletide party.

During the business period, gifts were exchanged, the hours following being devoted to cards and dancing. Mrs. Albert Di Palmo and Mrs. Anthony Panella won the prizes and the club members presented their president and hostess, Mrs. Bartlett, with a beautiful remembrance.

Mrs. James Bongivengo asked the club to her home, on Glass street, in two weeks.

Woman's Club Guest

Mrs. Frances Cope was a special guest of the Woman's club, of Wampum, at their meeting on Thursday afternoon, and she favored the members with several readings. Mrs. C. F. Morrow was hostess for the afternoon.

Christmas gifts were exchanged and Mrs. Cope was presented with a lovely remembrance. Luncheon in seasonal tones, was served.

Visits In New York

Mrs. Herb McGoun, 325 East Lincoln avenue, left Thursday evening for New York City, where she will visit a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Brinsmade, the latter being her daughter.

Mrs. McGoun will return to the city Sunday evening.

FEDERATION JUNIORS ENTERTAIN KIDDIES

At 7 o'clock Thursday evening, the Elm Street Y. W. C. A. was rollicking with laughter and merrymaking, when the Federation Juniors, a prominent club of young women who are doing worthy things for the community, entertained the little colored kiddies at a Christmas party. Miss Sarah McGoun was in charge of the interesting program of games, assisted by Miss Martha Muse, which held the attention of the youngsters ranging from 3 to 7 years.

With this concluded, old Santa Claus, the role being portrayed most effectively by Miss Charlotte Bartlett, paid a visit to the merry gathering, and presented each little girl with a beautiful baby doll. To the boys in attendance, their hearts jumped with glee, when given a miniature aeroplane. Bags of candy were also received by the little guests.

During the evening, Mrs. E. D. Marvin who is deeply interested in the Federation Juniors, was pleasantly surprised with a lovely handkerchief from the girls. Miss Brown of the Y. W., was also remembered similarly.

The next regular meeting of the Federation Juniors, will be held in January.

L. L. O. I .Party.

Lodge 129 of the L. L. O. I. entertained the members and families at a Christmas party in the city building Thursday evening when there was a Christmas box and exchange of gifts among the members, after which an interesting program was presented

The program opened with musical numbers by the Melody Eight, after which there was a recitation, "Do Not Open Until Christmas", by Doris Parks; vocal number, Herbert Stockman, with guitar accompaniment by Andy Mazen, who also played an instrumental number. August Leone presented a tap dance; song, "It Came Upon a Christmas Night", Doris Parks, Ruth Miller and Doris Engle; recitation, "Just a Minute", Florence Shanor.

Piano number, Helen Humme; music by the string orchestra; piano selection, Leona Morgan; tap dance, Helen Humme, and adagio number by Andy Mazen and Kathryn Hartsuff.

Dancing and refreshments were the after program features.

Octava Bridge

Mrs. Oliver Smith welcomed members of the Octova club in her home on Grant street, Thursday evening. Two tables were used for bridge, with Mrs. Robert Dailey winning the trophy. The guests had an exchange of gifts and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Burton Taylor. Favors were lovely yellow rosebuds.

On December 29, members and their husbands will be entertained at a Christmas party in the Burton home on Neshannock avenue. Mrs. Kenneth White, of Euclid avenue, will be hostess in two weeks.

At Ross Home

Mrs. George Ross extended the hospitality of her home, on Lutton street, Thursday evening, to the Ten Ivory club. Gifts were exchanged and Christmas carols sung which were led by Mrs. Mable Mastrangelo, who also won the club award.

At midnight, a delicious raviola supper was served, colors of the season prevailing in the appointments. Mrs. Anthony Bullano was a club guest.

The next meeting will take place on January 10, at the Mastrangelo home, on South Mill street.

Colonial Club

Mrs. Edward Thomas, of East Home street, was a charming hostess on Thursday evening, when she entertained the members of the Colonial club at a Christmas party.

The feature of the evening was the exchanging of gifts among the members. Cards proved the chief diversion. High score honors went to Mrs. Andrew Sarbo. Late in the evening the hostess served dainty refreshments. Christmas colors prevailed.

In two weeks, Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo, of Hazelcroft avenue, will receive the club.

MANY FRIENDS GREET REV. R. G. ROSCAMP

Hundreds of friends, many of whom were former parishoners of St. Andrews church where he was a beloved leader for several years, showered Rev. R. G. Roscamp, of Milton street, with cards and gifts Thursday, the occasion marking his 89th birthday.

Members of the Loyal Order of Moose turned out in large numbers and presented Rev. Roscamp with a handsome gift. Congratulations and best wishes for continued good health were extended the honored guest.

Hostess At Party

Miss Dorothy Druschel was hostess at an enjoyable Christmas party last evening, at her home, on the Mt. Jackson road. Guests were associates in the Ever Willing Missionary circle, of the Mt. Jackson Presbyterian church, numbering eight, and they spent several happy hours playing games. Jessie Chambers won the award in the guessing contest.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. E. M. Druschel, amid cherry Yuletide colors, with candlelight shedding a soft glow over the group.

Choir Has Party.

A delightful Yuletide party was enjoyed by the members of the choir of New Castle chapter 105, O. E. S., Thursday evening at the home of May Thomas, Wilmington road, who had Mrs. Anna Virtue as her associate hostess.

The home was decorated to enhance the Christmas spirit and after an exchange of lovely gifts, bridge was played, with Mrs. Lillian Henry and May Lloyd winning the prizes.

The refreshments were in keeping with the season, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Mary Lloyd and Mrs. Martha Thomas.

Mabel Ryan Class.

Many members of the Mabel Ryan class of the Christian Missionary Alliance met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Carl Fogarty Pine street, for a Christmas party.

The members had an exchange of gifts, which gave them much pleasure as they were opened, and the teachers, Mrs. John Wink and Mrs. Henry Boon, were presented with many lovely things.

The singing of carols and an evening of general good time was enjoyed.

I. W. T. Club

Mrs. Harry Watt, of Vogan avenue entertained the I. W. T. club at a 6 o'clock dinner Thursday evening. A social time and exchange of gifts followed, proving delightful for all.

Later the club members went to a local church and enjoyed a Christmas entertainment.

The next regular meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Harry McCullough, East Washington street.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

DEPARTMENT HAS FROLIC

A large, glittering Christmas tree and bunches of Christmas greens formed an attractive decoration for the halls of Senior high on Monday evening when sturents of the Modern Language department gathered to make merry at the annual Christmas party.

The festivities began with a dinner which was served under the direction of Mrs. Rachel Taylor. The tables of the dining room were gay with center pieces of red candles and pines. Girls from the different language departments served as waitresses.

At the conclusion of the dinner the group gathered in the hall where a miscellaneous program was presented. The performers were chosen from the various departments and all the numbers of the program were outstanding selections. Christmas carols were sung by the entire group, with Miss Elizabeth Williams at the piano. John A. Thomas who served as chairman gave an explanation of the significance of association among the various language departments, French, Spanish, and German, after which he introduced the following program:

Clarinet solo, Serenade—Moskowski—Roger Pecano

Flute solo, Minute Waltz—Chopin—William Shira

Violin solo, A Christmas Song—Oley Speaks—James Fuller

Dorothy Fisher and Elizabeth Eakin played the accompaniments.

After the musical numbers Monsieur Magchi presented his Magical Act, and mystified his audience by glasses of lemonade appearing out of the air and similar strange happenings.

A play was arranged by Willie Leonhardt, student director of the dramatics class. The theme, "An Irish Christmas" was also in keeping with the spirit of the season. The following students were in the cast: Willie Leonhardt, Mildred Carson, James Bradford, Kathleen Shuttleworth, Tom Holiday, Lester Bailey and Bob Moore.

At the conclusion of the play, Geneveieve Thomas led the group in the song "Santa Claus is Coming to Town," after which Santa Claus really did come, with some letters which he had received and candy for every one.

The general arrangements were under the direction of the teachers: Miss Kelley and Miss Miller from the French department, Miss Edmunds and Miss Williams from the Spanish and Miss Riffer from the German. Many student committees worked enthusiastically to make the party a success.

Special guests were Miss Marjorie Rhodes, Miss Sarah Dinsmore and Miss Frances Maxwell.

PLAYS PART OF SANTA

The Home X Club enacted the role of Santa Claus to twenty five first graders from North street school, Tuesday, December 18. The program was in the nature of a festive Christmas party. A delicious luncheon was served, and each child was presented with a, lovely gift. The committee in charge of the occasion was: Nellie Brown, chairman, Doris McMullen, Mary Eileen Wray and Betty Walter.

VACATION UNTIL JAN 2

Christmas vacation began Thursday afternoon, December 20, 1934 at two forty-five p. m. and continues to Wednesday morning, January 2, 1935.

BOY'S GAMES COMMENCE

Boy's class basketball teams were organized this week. Practice started Monday evening, December 17, at seven o'clock in the high school gymnasium. A definite schedule in the practices and games will be followed by the various classes. The following teachers have been appointed as sponsors of the different class teams: Sophomore B team Mr. Mills: Sophomore A team, Mr. Copson, Junior B team, Mr. Brown: Junior A team, Mr. Klee: Senior B team, Mr. Gardner: Senior A team, Mr. Anderson; Post Graduate team, Mr. Nelson

Arthur Alexander, a former athlete in Ne-Ca-Hi, has been employed to caoch all class basketball teams.

HI-Y HEARS CASILLO

The Ne-Ca-Hi-Y held its regular meeting Monday evening, December 17, at the Y. M. C. A. Bob Young led the devotionals. Several important matters were taken up in the business meeting. Among these were the appointing of a social committee, and planning a gospel team for the organization Mr. Casillo then gave a delightfully interesting talk on his adventures in Alaska. The meeting was then adjourned with a friendship circle.

DELIVER HOLIDAY TOYS

As a part of the club's work, the Senior Girl Reserves helped Santa Claus in delivering some toys when a party was held at the Scioto St. mission on Friday afternoon, December 21. Dolls, mittens and stockings were distributed to each of the little girls. The program presented by the Girl Reserves for the youngster's entertainment consisted of: Christmas carols: readings, Leah Davis: Christmas story, Peggy England.

PEP CHAPEL CONDUCTED

An inspiring pep chapel was presented Tuesday morning, December 18 in the High School auditorium. The program started off with cheers by the student body. Faculty Manager, Ralph Gardner, introduced the speakers, and Bill Barbarowicz introduced the basketball team. Other speakers such as Captain Brownie Ostrosky, Student Manager Hugh Davis, and Coach Bridenbaugh completed the program. And a few more cheers, the chapel was dismissed.

PLAYERS HELP ENTERTAIN

A delightful program was presented to the chapel of the Senior high school this week. Members of the dramatic class under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff, contributed their talent. The play, "Exiled," was the story of an old couple waiting for their boys to come home for Christmas. One writes that he is too busy to come, but send presents (mostly useless). The other, they have not heard from for six years. They do not know that he is in prison. While they are waiting, an escaped convict comes, and unknown to them, they entertain their own son. To him they give all the useful presents. The curtain closes on the old couple smiling and happy for having helped "somebody's' 'boy.

The music was furnished by the orchestra.

SHORTHAND TEST GIVEN

The December Gregg Writer Transcription tests were given last week in the Shorthand IIB classes.

The name of Flora Cimini was added to the list of these qualifying on the 60 word test.

The following students qualified for the first time on the 80 word-test: Esther Sibberson, Helen Wainio, Helen Yasko and Dorothy Donahey. All but one of the above named qualified with 98 per cent accuracy.

GRADUATES SEND MESSAGES

The Misses Alice Jane McCune, Lucille Turk and Mary Lou McCamic of the Senior High's January 1933 class, junior nurses at the Allegheny General hospital, Pittsburgh, have sent word to friends here that the work of completing the new hospital building, which has been delayed for several years because of economic conditions will be started on January 1, and that the new building will be ready for service in about a year. In anticipation of this more nurses will be needed and the hospital announces a class for beginners in February 1935. This is the first time in several years a class has been accepted in the middle of the year.

Dutch Ship Flying Sea, Talks To Sub

(International News Service)

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 21.—As the first Dutch air liner to fly the Atlantic crosses to Paramaribo (Dutch Guiana), carrying the Christmas mail to the Dutch West Indies, it will have wireless "conversations" with the Dutch submarine "K. XVIII" which is on a scientific cruise in the Atlantic.

The route chosen for the plane lies via Casablanca and Porto Praja (Cape Verde Islands).

The aircraft is a three-engined Fokker "Snipe," with a cruising speed of 140 miles an hour, and a fuel capacity of 1,000 gallons. There are two pilots, a mechanic and radio operator.

Too Many Mice Get Him In Jail

(International News Service)

RIGA, Latvia.—Erasmus Kovalenock is in prison—because he tried to make a living out of mice.

He would go to a baker and buy a loaf of bread. At home he would scoop out some of the inside, insert a dead mouse and fix up the loaf to look as if the mouse had been baked with the bread.

With a disgusted expression on his face, he would call to the baker's and threaten to "expose" him. He played the trick on 18 bakers, and they all quickly handed him a sum of money as "compensation." Then he came up against a baker who handed Erasmus over to the police.

MORAVIA

The Christmas entertainment will be held at the church on Christmas eve.

Recent New Castle shoppers were: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gwin and sons Harold and Charles, Mrs. E. A. Gwin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buttermore, Mary Ellen Gwin, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Allen and Mrs. Harry Allen.

Among the local residents to attend the young people's meeting at the Methodist church were: Herbert Leslie, Susanna Brodbeck, Grace Shannon, Mary Ellen Gwin, Hazel Wear, Ruth Brodbeck, Frank Kennedy, Robert Henderson, Walter Werner, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mielke. Stanley and Gladys Brest and Alice Allen.

Paganini was such a good violinist that he had to compose his own music, nothing already written being difficult enough to show off his skill.

THE NEWS, BY MAIL ONE YEAR, $5.00

St. John's Day To Be Observed

New Castle Lodge Of Perfection Has Program Completed For Annual Observance

PUBLIC WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE

Announcement was made today by Welty O. Rugh, Thrice Potent Master of the New Castle Lodge of Perfection, Valley of New Castle, A. A. S. R., that all arrangements have been completed for the annual public observance of the anniversary of St. John, the Evangelist, which will take place Thursday evening, December 27, at 8 o'clock, in the Cathedral auditorium.

The principal address of the evening will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Hugh Thompson Kerr, 33, pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, of Pittsburgh.

One of the features of the program will be the rendering of selections from the oratorio, "The Messiah," by the First Methodist Episcopal choir, augmented by a number of the city's leading singers. This will be presented under the direction of William W. Campbell, director of the Cathedral choir, with Edwin Lewis as organist and Agnes Skillen and Mary Long, pianists.

The complete program for the evening will be made public later.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

STAFF LUNCHEON

Members of the Y. W. C. A. staff enjoyed luncheon together at noon today.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The January meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Board of Directors will be conducted on January 8, a week earlier than usual, in order that plans for the Y. W. C. A. musical comedy, "Sunny Skies," which is to be presented at the Cathedral on February 15, may be made.

This week's meeting was devoted to financial matters. Mrs. Robert Eckles presented a report of the revised budget for the association.

SQUARE CIRCLE

A business meeting of the Square Circle will be held this evening, at 7:30, in the Institute rooms at the Y. W. C. A. Basketball practice will follow, in charge of Miss Braham.

WAMPUM

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The annual Christmas party, given by the ladies of the Woman's club proved a huge success.

The party was held Thursday afternoon in the Presbyterian church.

Christmas decorations with the colored lights, and a large tree very beautifully trimmed and gifts for all the ladies made a very pretty sight.

The hospitality committee: Mesdames C. F. Morrow, Abe Caplan, W. D. Dickson and Robt. Grinnen, were in charge.

Mrs. Dickson arranged the program as follows:

Solo—Mrs. C. F. Morrow; Mrs. W. D. Dickson, accompanist.

Two readings, "Christmas Carols" and "The Baldheaded Man," by Mrs. Stewart Cope.

Mrs. Abe Caplan was dressed as Santa and presented the gifts, after which a delicious lunch was served and a social chat enjoyed by all.

Twenty-one members present. Six special guests, Mrs. Stewart Cope and Miss Jean McGeorge, of New Castle; Mrs. B. W. Druckenmiller, of Ben Avon; Misses Olive Davis, Agnes King and Elinor Jackson.

The ladies enjoyed Mrs. Phillips' talk over the radio during their program.

Americanism: Making the little business man toe the mark: dealing gently with the big fellow who can afford to fight it out in court.

Throng Y. M. C. A. For Gala Party

Members, Friends Share Holiday Party; Gym Games, Program Feature

Members and friends of the Young Men's Christian Association gathered last night for a gala Christmas fellowship party that was marked by a spirited athletic competition in the gymnasium and a musical and speaking program afterward. The Committee of Twelve sponsored it.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, compared American Christmases with Australian Christmases as he delivered the principal address of the evening. He is a native of that country.

Presiding over the lobby program was William Winters, chairman of the evening's arrangements. Dr. Bennett was introduced by Sidney Lockley.

The "nutty basketball tournament" was the early-evening feature, and picked teams, abiding by "nutty" rules, provided rollicking amusement for the spectators. Ping pong and billards were open to the guests.

A lunch was served by the association later in the evening.

Assisting Winters in the evening arrangements were Dario Baptiste and Jack Boyles, his co-members on the Committee of Tewlve, and Alec Samuels, Howard Warnock, Nick George, Charles Jones, John Hodge, Paul Gilbert, Ralph Brooks, Newt Campbell and Joseph Bara, special aides.

The party is the second to be sponsored by the new Committee of Twelve.

Edwards Files Murder Appeal

Youth Charged With 'American Tragedy' Seeks Stay Of Death Sentence

FRIENDS GIVE FUNDS FOR APPEAL

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—An appeal from his conviction and death sentence for the "American tragedy" murder of Freda McKechnie, his childhood sweetheart, was filed in the Pennsylvania supreme court here today on behalf of Robert Allan Edwards.

The youthful coal mine inspector was found guilty of first degree murder in Luzerne county court and was condemned to death in the electric chair.

Today's appeal, financed by friends, neighbors and former school companions of Edwards, was made returnable by the supreme court on the fourth Monday in January.

Counsel for the young convicted slayer presented the appeal to the high tribunal.

Recently Edwards had been refused a new trial. The rejected motion for retrial of the famous case was based on allegations of prejudice on the part of a juror.

The young mine inspector was found guilty of murdering Miss McKechnie, an expectant mother, in Harvey's Lake last summer. The state contended he buldgeoned the young woman to death so that he would be free to marry another girl.

LEAVE ASHES

Do not remove all the wood ashes that accumulate in the fireplace, but leave enough for a bed for the new logs. The ashes will retain the heat and cause more warmth in the room.

KEEP TIGHT

Keep the tops of spice tins very secure as the air tends to make spices lose their flavor and "spiciness".

BECOMES HERO AS AVENGER OF DUCE

(International News Service)

MILAN.—In contrast to the treatment of the young allen who destroyed a satirist painting of President Roosevelt in New York and was deported, is the honor accorded an Italian who tore up an "insulting" caricature of Mussolini which was displayed in a Nice shop. He has been congratulated by the secretary of the Fascist party. The official wrote to him commending him for having, "as a true Italian, given a lesson in manners to a foreigner."

While Adriano Totti, of Milan, was on a visit to Nice, he noticed a number of political caricatures in the window of a tailor's shop. One was of Mussolini. Considering it offensive, he entered the shop, seized the drawing, and tore it up. The proprietor took him to the police station. He was released.

The Italian newspaper "Il Messagero" describes his action as "noble and significant."

Three Youthful Killers Occupy Cells In Jail

Philip Kennamer Is Not Only Slayer In Jail At Tulsa, Oklahoma

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 21.—Two other youthful confessed killers whose crimes followed the sensational Thanksgiving night slaying of John F. Gorrell Jr., 23, by Philip Kennamer, 19, today occupied cells in the same county jail with the son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer.

They are Austin Smith, charged with the automobile jack murder of Loren Gregory, a Claremore, Okla., cafe owner, and Paul Lumary, 15, facing a first degree manslaughter charge for shooting Carl Pulliam, 17.

Young Kennamer has confessed to the accidental killing of Gorrell, claiming he was trying to prevent the dental student from carrying out an extortion plot that involved plans for kidnaping Virginia Wilcox, the daughter of a wealthy Tulsa oil man.

Three To Attend State Convention

Three delegates will represent the New Castle chapter of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association in Harrisburg, December 26-27 when the annual convention of the organization will be held. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, will represent the administrative department, Robert Mills the Senior high school, and Miss Mary Wilson of the Lincoln-Garfield school will represent the elementary schools.

The delegates will leave New Castle either late afternoon of December 25 or early on the morning of December 26.

Although the total area of the Philippine Islands is only about equal to that of Arizona, it embraces 7,083 isles.

Original Counsel For Hauptmann Is Object Of Search

Seek James M. Fawcett Who Has Valuable Papers In His Possession

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—James M. Fawcett, Bruno Richard Hauptmann's original attorney, was being sought by representatives of the Bronx Carpenter's new counsel, today as the scheduled start of his trial for the slaying of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh drew steadily nearer.

Edward F. Reilly, chief counsel for Hauptmann, said he had obtained a supreme court order calling upon Fawcett to show cause why he should not turn over all papers and documents in connection with the case which he allegedly has in his possession.

Reilly has alleged that Fawcett is withholding the papers in his possessions because he has not been paid a $4,000 fee..

Job Holders At State Capitol Feeling Better

Believe That Wholesale Dismissals Are Not Likely To Be Made

CLAIM IS MADE "MERIT" WILL WIN

By SIDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 21—Optimism springing from the belief that most of them are destined to retain their jobs in the incoming Democratic administration has replaced the fear and apprehensiveness that not so long ago pervaded the ranks of the 3,000 workers on Capitol Hill here.

Recent developments as governor-elect George H. Earle prepares to enter office next January 15 have convinced the vast majority of the state workers that the incoming chief executive intends to adhere to his campaign promise that only "political hacks" are slated for the dismmissal axe.

Bad cases of "jitters" that were so much in evidence in the Capitol Hill offices the morning of November 7 when newspapers announced the first Democratic victory in more than 40 years have gradually disappeared.

Governor-elect Earle's announcement that he was retaining Maj. Gen. Edward C. Shannon, a Republican stalwart, as commander of the National Guard, was one of factors in restoring calm on Capitol Hill as inauguration day approached.

Another factor was the announcement of Robert L. Johnson, the incoming relief administrator, that merit alone will be the sole test upon which the 12,000 employes of the administrative staff of the board should rely to hold their jobs.

Many state employes with Republican ties also pointed out that a wholesale dismissal by the new administration would jeopardize the support of the many thousands of G. O. P. registrants who deserted their party ties to sweep the Democrats into office last November.

Most of the state workers here and in other cities and sections now believe that the governor-elect is opposed to a general exodus of Republican workers to make way for Democrats and that save for cabinet heads the rank and file of state employes will remain.

This is in marked contrast to the attitude of the Republican workers shortly after the election when one department was so certain that wholesale dismissals were to result that the workers were considering resigning in a body on inauguration day as a striking gesture of scorn.

The new governor's friends here say he intends to subject applicants for key jobs in the various state departments to close scrutiny in order to insure an efficient administration in the next four years.

SEEKS SPEED LIMIT ON AUTO ENGINES

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Other means having failed to curb an ever mounting accident rate, the state department of public works has proposed the mandatory instalment of governors on automobile engines so that they may not develope a speed faster than 50 miles per hour.

The department also recommended heavier penalties for drunken driving, allowing improper persons to operate an auto, hit-and-run driving, and reckless operation of motor vehicles.

The only survivor of Custer's army, after the battle of the Little Big Horn, was Comanche, a buckskin horse: his mounted skin now stands in the museum of the University of Kansas.

On Court House Hill

Some miscreant has stolen some bulbs from the Christmas trees at the court house. They are believed to have been taken during the late hours of the night. The night watchman has been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for any more thieves.

Indications are that when township road supervisors and auditors hold their convention at the court house on January 4, some action will be taken to obtain state funds for the maintenance of township roads, the funds to be applied directly by the townships. This plan has been endorsed in several nearby counties.

County commissioners get all kinds of requests and inquiries. The other day some one called up and asked how many points you get for a "little slam". From the remarks that were made some one would have gotten more than a little slam if she had been closer than the end of a telephone wire.

Mrs. Burdella Gerstner of Slippery Rock has been granted a divorce from her husband, Martin W. Gerstner of Aliquippa, in the Butler court. They were married in June 1930, and after they separated in April 1932, Mrs. Gerstner went to live with her father, a daughter and son-in-law in a property which she owns at Slippery Rock. The divorce application was made on the grounds of cruelty.

Prospective borrowers who failed to get their applications filed in time to get Home Owners Loan Corporation financing, may yet be given an opportunity. Senator Wagner of New York has announced that he will introduce a bill at the coming session of congress authorizing the corporation to issue another billion dollars in bonds, to be exchanged for mortgages on homes.

In the case of the Gross Machinery Company against the First National Bank of Lawrence county, Judge R. L. Hildebrand handed down an opinion today in favor of the plaintiff. The case was one in which the First National Bank held a mortgage on property of Mayberry's Master Cleaners. Mayberry's bought a 3000 gallon high pressure filter from the Gross Machinery Company on a bailment lease. This machinery was sold along with the property of an execution issued by the bank. The Gross Company then sought to secure possession of the filter to which it was claimed the Mayberry company never had title. The question hinged largely on whether or not the filter was permanently attached to the real estate. The court finds that it was not and makes an award for $750, for the plaintiff, this being the value of the filter.

There are at present 39 men and two women in the county jail. Some of those in jail are persons who were convicted at the December term of quarter sessions court, and others are serving out sentences imposed at former terms or on special sentence day. Sentence court will again be held on January 27.

County commissioners could lower taxes for the coming year if they could get in a fair amount of the delinquent taxes which have been filed. Hopes are being entertained that the next session of the legislature will provide some method by which rebates or other inducements can be offered that will be a special incentive to delinquents to pay up. It is felt that if penalties, and possibly interest, could be cancelled, it would result in a largely increased income from delinquent taxes. As the laws now stand no special inducements can be offered. Interest on taxes as well as penalties, are steadily mounting.

Due to an error an item regarding the water supply at the county home read that 600 gallons of water are needed per day when it should have read 6,000 gallons.

MORE CANNIBALS TO BE FORCED TO LOSE APPETITES

(International News Service)

PORT MORESBY, Papua, Dec. 21.—Cannibalism will be stamped out in Papua and territory rich in mineral deposits will be prepared for developement as the result of a permanent police camp now being established among the fierce Goilala tribes.

These warlike people, who live in the Goilala valley, kill and eat natives of still more remote —and as yet, unexplored—valleys in the mountainous country.

This is to be changed by the new police camp. Working with the Goilala valley as a center, the police officers will explore the remote parts of Western Papua and bring law and order to the people who are known to exist between the Fly and Kikori rivers.

This territory is known to be rich in mineral deposits and a British firm is preparing to establish mines.

Cows Of State Have High Rank

Doing Better Job Of Producing Milk Than Cows Of Nation Generally

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—Cows were doing a better job at producing milk in Pennsylvania than in the nation generally on December 1, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports.

The average Pennsylvania cow covered by the study produced on December first 14.7 pounds of milk. In the country as a whole, on the other hand, the average cow surveyed produced only 11.08 pounds of milk on that date. The average per cow production was higher in five states than in Pennsylvania.

In Ohio the average production per cow, however, was only 13 pounds. In West Virginia this figure was placed at the even lower level of 8.6 pounds.

DUEL FOR HONOR OF THEIR HOME

(International News Service)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 21.—Two young Scotsmen, Lionel and Cyril Page, cleared their father's honor by drastic means.

The father, who died recently, was Wilfred E. Page, manager of a British firm in Chile and president of the Chilean Chamber of Commerce.

His conduct in this post was so severely attacked by Senor Eleodoro Guzman, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, that the two sons challenged him to a "duel to a definite end."

The alternative was complete apology. Senor Eleodoro decided to apologize.

Richman Brothers Clothes
ALL $22.50

PRIDE AND PRICE

Not so long ago men exhibited with pride the costly labels in their clothes and boasted of their extravagances. Now the same men take even greater pride in revealing their economies. And nothing nowadays gives a man greater satisfaction than that proud flourish with which he unbuttons his coat and points to the Richman Brothers' label.

How do we do it at $22.50? We've simply cut out many of the items which add to the cost of doing business. Our clothes are produced in our own shops, and they're sold in our own stores. We sell for cash. We make no deliveries. No extra profits need be added to the price in anticipation of mark-down sales.

You too will take pride in wearing Richman Brothers clothes. All suits, topcoats, overcoats and dress clothes are $22.50.

GIFT CERTIFICATES
It's easy to present a man with new clothes. All you need to do is buy a gift certificate in our store. This certificate is good at any time for a suit, overcoat or trousers, according to the amount you've paid . . . and it enables the recipient to select any garment he chooses.

W. & J. Alumni Head Denies Subsidizing

No Agreement Made Between Alumni And School For Financial Aid, Says Marks

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 21—Following in the wake of the Washington and Jefferson College plan to end subsidization of athletes alumni of the school today had pointed out there was no agreement between their group and the school to lend financial assistance to gridiron candidates.

Stating his own personal opinion as being in favor of subsidizing "brains and character" James L. Marks, headmaster at Kiskiminetas Prep school and president of the W. and W. alumni association, denied the existence of any such agreement.

"I do know that in certain sections the alumni got together to send some individual or individuals to W. and J." he said. "Usually this was done because of their football prowess. All such cases were a matter between the certain sections and the school. The alumni organization as a whole had nothing to do with it officially."

ALLSHOUSE WILL GET VACANT CARRIER POST

LeRoyd B. Allshouse, substitute letter carrier of the local post office, will become a regular carrier on January 1, suceeding to the place left vacant by the death of William P. Ice, Postmaster Richard A. A. Steen announced today.

RESUME PROJECT

Discontinued when the RWD program was abandoned last spring, the Recreation Survey for New Castle has been resumed under the supervision of Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts. The survey is for the purpose of ascertaining the recreational facilities of the city, and recommending facilities that are needed. The work is an RWD project which was authorized about ten days ago.

ENGLAND

The Saxons gave to the "heal-all" of the Celts the pretty name of mistletoe, or mistletan, meaning a shoot or tine of a tree. Then, as today, there was jollity beneath the mistletoe at Christmas time, only in those days everybody believed it possessed magic powers. It was considered a sovereign remedy for all diseases. Modern science, however, has failed to find that mistletoe possesses any medicinal qualities.

HILLSVILLE

BAZAAR HELD

One of the prettiest of the Christmas seasaon bazaars was held on Monday evening, at the Club House in Carbon, under the supervision of the Community Nurse, Mrs. Bertha U. Smith. All the articles that were sold were made by the girls of the club. The proceeds of the bazaar are for the furnishings for the Club House, which through the untiring efforts of Mrs. Smith is becoming quite an up to date home.

Risks Life To Sit Amid Lightning In Storm To Test Conductor Theory

By GERALD MARTIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALPENA, Mich.—Perched 100 feet in the air in a galvanized metal coop atop a steel fire lookout tower during a violent electrical storm with lightning flashing all about was R. O. Williams' way of testing a theory at the risk of his life.

Williams, a radio engineer for the Department of Conservation, believed that the huge towers, despite their obvious attraction for million-volt bolts of lightning, would act only as conductors which would carry the destructive flashes right into the ground. This is contrary to popular theory, and lookouts usually leave their towers in a storm. If he was wrong, well—.

Selecting a tower located just south of here in Alcona county, Williams made his preparations and awaited the coming of a storm. Sitting in the metal cabin he presently began to feel the growing wind which at first swayed the structure gently and then, gathering force, shook it back and forth. The metal cross braces hummed as the fury of the wind increased.

The storm broke. Thunder rumbled. Lightning burst. Soon the tower was the center of a pyrotechnic display unequalled by man's works. A distant flash would produce a sizzling sound as the tower stored up the static electricity in the air. The hissing noise stopped only to be renewed by another of Jupiter's missiles. Williams jumped to shut off his radio receiving set, one of which is mounted on each of the state's 150 towers. As he reached for the switch, sparks two inches long leaped to meet his hand.

Looking out a window the engineer saw blue dancing lights running up and down the tower and sparks emanating from every projection. Experimentally, and without apparent fear because of his store of electrical knowledge, Williams ventured a climb down the ladder. As he thrust out his arm to grasp the top run, he felt a tingling, tickling sensation. The electricity in the air surrounding the structure was pulling the hair on the back of his hand upright. But he was injured in any way.

All around balls of fire appeared as the bolts rolled up from the ground, but the tower, acting as a lightning rod, safely carried away the tremendous voltage to safely radiate it in the surrounding earth.

Spies Have To Hear Red Perform Music

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST—Boris Blinder, Russian Violincellist, may be way up in the world of music, but two detectives assigned to watch him yawned through his concert.

The two detectives awaited Boris at the frontier.

They accompanied him here, then to his hotel, then to his suite.

Then they got into stiff shirts and went with him to the concert hall and had seats in the front row where they could watch him as he played.

After the concert the trip was reversed all the way back to the frontier.

All Soviet citizens traveling in Hungary are given the same careful supervision.

Girl, 22, Is Made U. S. Court Bailiff

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Local members of the bar, ever impatient to have court open and their cases called, are more impatient than ever now that attractive Miss Luverne Brown, 22, has been appointed a federal court bailiff and assigned to calling out in a clear soprano voice the well-known "Hear ye! Hear ye!"

Court officials say it is the first time a woman has been appointed to the post of court bailiff in a U. S. district court. But the courtroom work, which includes quieting demonstrative spectators, is just a preliminary to Miss Brown's appointment to be a full-fledged deputy U. S. marshal.

Then she will be entitled to carry a pistol incident to her new duties, which probably will include handling of women prisoners.

DESPERATE FIGHT TO SAVE SHANK

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 21.—A last minute fight to save Mark Shank, Akron, O., attorney from the electric chair Dec. 28, was in progress here today with the invocation of an old law which provides that convicts who have become insane shall be transferred to the State hospital until they have regained sanity.

Shank is under death sentence for the "picnic poisoning" of a family of four Ohioans in this state last year.

COPS GET BOOZE CASH

SALEM, O.—City council, conforming with a request by Mayor Norman Phillips, set up a $100 fund for the police force to buy liquor. Phillips charged state and federal authorities were not giving the city officers proper cooperation, and asked the fund be set aside for purchase of "buys" in the campaign of the city police department against the bootleggers.

Bad Marriage Better Than None At All, Says Squire

(International News Service)

CROWN POINT, Ind.—Howard H. Kemp, the "marrying squire", who claims the distinction of having said the wedding ceremonies for 57,000 couples, will let Cupid take his business elsewhere after this year.

Judge Kemp, who is 48 and the dean of Indiana judges in point of service, got scuttled in the recent primary elections in the state when he sought nomination as a Republican. Apparently, the thousands for whom he said ceremonies for the last 20 years forgot him. He ran fourth in a field of eight.

Nevertheless, the marrying squire still believes the institution of marriage is the "only way out of a boresome life."

"In the opinion of many people today, marriage ends everything," he said. "The truth is precisely the reverse. It begins all.

"A bad marriage is better than none at all.

"The whole trouble with marriage today is that there is not enough courtship after marriage.

"Don't put your wife on a pedestal. It is too chilly up there.

"Marriage should mean a selfish partnership for two; not for one."

While most of the thousands who have had the marital knot tied by Judge Kemp were from the everyday walks of life, scores of them were not, among them being Rudolph Valentino and Winifred Hudnut; "Woody" English, the Chicago Cubs' baseball star; Sen. Henry Bathal, two of the famous Mills brothers, and Moran, one of the once famous Moran and Mack comedy team.

When Judge Kemp's term expires December 31 he and his wife will take an extended vacation in the West Indies, he said following the primary election.

Mice Loot Cat Of Fur For Nest

(International News Service)

LILLOOET, B. C.—"When the cat's away, the mice will play," says the adage.

But, Andy Bergenheim, prospector, declares that the mice of this modern day play even more boldly when the cat is not away.

His cat had been losing its fur in large quantities, prompting an investigation. He discovered that mice, making their nests beneath the floor of the cabin, had been robbing the cat of its fur and using the soft substance to line their nests.

And yet, the worst citizens are not the lawless but those who carefully keep inside the law.

Campaign For Memberships Is Proving Success

"Cap" Rowland Pleased With Results In Effort For Margaret Henry Home

WORKERS ARE CLOSING DRIVE

Results from the membership being waged in behalf of the Margaret L. Henry Children's Home, is proving very successful, "Cap" R. W. Rowland, general chairman of the effort stated today, and for the most part, the workers will complete their solicitations today.

While the number of workers assigned to the task has been limited, they have been producing results, as evidenced by the large number of citizens who have enrolled in the effort to assist the home in their present difficulty.

An opportunity will be given everyone who has not been seen by the workers, to contribute, as it is felt that many citizens would like to enroll as members in the association which supervises the home. A coupon will be printed, which subscribers may fill out and send to the campaign headquarters.

The drive opened on Monday, when a group of interested citizens started out to enroll the residents of the city as members in the home association, and while the campaign will not officially close until next Monday, December 24, the greatest part of the work has not been accomplished, Chairman Rowland states.

Plan Big Time At Inauguration Of New Governor

Democrats Will Celebrate Their Ascendancy To Power After 40 Years

LEADERS OF PARTY WILL BE PRESENT

By SYDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 21.—This city is eagerly awaiting its quadrennial celebration—the inauguration of a new governor next January 15.

On that day George H. Earle, the first Democrat in 40 years to be elected chief executive, will assume the oath of office in an impressive ceremony on the capitol plaza.

Harrisburg will be crowded with thousands of jubilant Democrats from all sections of the state, here for the colorful ceremonies.

Many national Democratic leaders, among them Postmaster General Farley and other cabinet members and legislators, are planning to attend the ceremonies.

To Aid Business

The inauguration as usual will prove to be a financial wind-fall for Harrisburg business establishments. All the larger hotels already report reservations for all their available quarters. Restaurants and hotels have ordered special supplies of provisions to feed the thousands of additional persons who will be here for the inauguration.

The governor-elect has requested that the inauguration ceremonies be as simple as possible but the exuberance of the rank and file of the Democratic party over their first great state victory in four decades may thwart his wishes.

Governor-elect Earle and his party have established headquarters for the inauguration at a hotel in Hershey, near Harrisburg, where they will remain as guests until the confusion and excitement in the capitol has subsided.

To Start At 11 A. M.

The ceremonies will get under way about 11 o'clock in the morning when Thomas Kennedy of Hazelton, international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, takes the oath of office as lieutenant governor in the senate chamber. He will address the legislators briefly.

At noon, governor-elect Earle and Gov. Gifford Pinchot will meet at the executive mansion and drive to the capitol with an escort of the brilliantly uniformed governor's troop of Pennsylvania National Guard.

Members of the state assembly will join the outgoing and incoming governors in the spacious rotunda of the state capitol building and proceed outside to the plaza for the inauguration.

The chief justice of the state supreme court will administer the oath of office to the new governor. The governor's salute of 19 guns will then be fired by a national guard detachment.

The new governor will then deliver his inaugural address in which it has been customary for him to outline his program for the legislature.

At the conclusion of the address, the inaugural parade will begin and the governor will review the marchers which this year will include delegations from virtually every city in the state.

When the parade has ended, the cabinet officers will be invested with the oath of office and the social program, climaxed at night by the inaugural ball, will begin.

Some Sidelights On Legislators

November Election Made Two Changes In Alphabetical Zoo In Legislature

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 21.—An initial-hunting expedition to the 1935 legislative rooster discloses that 22 of the 26 letters known to the alphabet are utilized in the last name initials of members of senate and house.

Of the missing four, two are vowels, "I" and "U" and the other two are the rare "Q" and "X".

In addition to these four, another four alos are missing in the senate, the common "D", "J", "V" and "Y", leaving only 18 letters in the initials of the senate membership.

The November 6 election made two changes in the alphabetical zoo in the legislature, the dropping of "Q" and the addition of acutely-angled "V". Reps. John E. Vanallsburg, Erie, and Henry K. Vansickle, Northampton, added the "V" to the list.

Graduation of Rep. James Quinn, Allegheny, from the state to the national house of representatives removed "Q" from the house list and defeat of senator Richard Quigley, Clinton, dropped that letter from the senate rolls.

The curled "S" is the most conspicious variety in the house, there being 32 members whose names begin with that letter. Coincidentally, 16 are Republicans and 16 Democrats. In the senate, the ladder-shaped "H" is high with six representatives.

"E", valuable in code decipherering because of its frequent use, ranks way down in the list in the legislature, appearing only for one initial in the senate and three in the house.

There are two "N's" in the house, which seems to be proper. Most things have two ends, if a pun may be permitted.

If the world's diamond output for 1929 were combined into one large diamond, it would make a 5½ foot cube with a weight of 1½ tons.

CRUELTY IS ALLEGED IN DIVORCE CASE

Marie B. Kennedy, New Castle R. R. 6, has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from her husband, Ernest I. Kennedy, 227 Smithfield street, on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married in this city in August, 1928, and lived together until July, 1932, when Mrs. Kennedy claims that she was forced to leave on account of cruelty.

Solve Liquor Hi-Jacking Near Warrendale, Four Men Under Arrest

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21—With the seizure of four men and the expected arrest of several others, authorities today announced they had solved the puzzling case of liquor hi-jacking near Warrendale on December 1.

Three hundred cases of liquor, said to have been stolen from the truck which was enroute to a liquor warehouse in Erie were recovered Officials said that only six quart bottles were missing from the cargo. The cases, neatly stacked were found in a local garage.

Pending the arrest of others in the case, authorities did not divulge names of the four men taken to custody.

War? Certainly Not, But If.
The Last U. S. Wilderness.
A Loss To Good Citizenship.
Improving The Face Of Crime.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

JAPAN WILL "denounce" the naval pact of 1922, that gave Britain and the United States a 5-5 naval equality and limited Japan to three.

Japan finds this ratio humilating, it hurts her pride, diminishes her chances of beating some foreign country should she feel inclined in that direction.

She will now end the pact, as she has a right to do, and build as many ships as she pleases.

More power to her. It is nobody's business what she builds, unless some one wants to go to war about it, which would be silly.

THE UNITED STATES, for every battleship constructed by a possible enemy, should build a squadron of fifty-four bombing planes. They would sink any new battleship and several of its mates with ease, and would make the owners of new ships afraid to send them out of port.

Fifty-four bombing planes would cost $3,780,000. One first-class battleship in this country costs fifty millions. Japan, more efficient, could build about the same ship for sixteen millions. Three and a half millions' worth of good bombing planes would sink several such ships.

THIS COUNTRY expects no quarrel with Japan, first, because Japan is intelligent; second, because there is no reason for any quarrel.

War threatened between Russia and Japan, but that threat is over, now that Russia has 900 bombing planes and a fleet of submarines at Vladivostok, within easy striking distance of Tokio, and every Japanese industrial center.

There is no reason for war with us unless somebody in Europe or Asia is particularly anxious for trouble. Mexicans used to say they could beat the United States easily enough, if it were not for Texas. They had seen Texas.

JAPAN AND the nations of Europe have seen the United States, but, in the language of a well known actor, "they have not seen anything yet."

They would really see something if they started a war against this country, and that is said with the national modesty that distinguishes the average American citizen.

AMERICANS ARE interested in a picture called "The Last Wilderness," exhibited for the first time today at Warner Brothers' Theater in Los Angeles.

Those that have seen pictures made in Asia and Africa, with the same old lions, tigers, snakes and crocodiles, will realize that the big game and the magnificent scenery of their own country far surpass in interest anything to be seen on any other continent.

"The Last Wilderness," a picture made by Howard Hill, in which all shooting is done with the bow and arrow by Mr. Hill, who is a champion in the use of that weapon, will interest Americans and educate them in the beauty of their own country and wild game.

THE HUNTING of the big game of America is done in the high Rockies of the state of Wyoming, and the picture includes some of the most beautiful scenery in America, plus great droves of elk and deer, huge bears, and other creatures, that once fed and supplied with clothing our predecessors, the red Indian.

Warner Brothers are congratulated upon showing this picture. Because of its educational value, it should be seen in every school and college, as well as in theaters.

THE DEATH of Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, daughter of E. H. Harriman, railroad builder, is a loss to good citizenship. When she was introduced to society on leaving college, Mrs. Rumsey started the Junior League, intelligently planning to utilize for public welfare the intelligence of young girls, and make useful, energy and wealth that had been wasted.

Throughout all her life, Mrs. Rumsey was intelligently and usefully interested in public affairs, an active, tireless worker. The unfortunate accident that caused her death means the loss of an earnest worker in many useful directions and the loss of a good example, set before others, by a woman of intelligence and wealth.

COMMISSIONER MacCORMICK, head of New York City's prison system, an ultra-modern penologist, says many prisoners are so ugly their faces discourage them, keep them back in the world. He would establish a criminal face-beautifying and face-lifting department, and change ugly, repulsive faces into faces that might find jobs.

A kind heart prompts the suggestion, assuming that Commissioner MacCormick really made it.

On the other hand, it might enable some criminals with their new faces to start a new and safer career of crime. Dillinger tried to change his face.

WE REALLY live and learn. A few years ago when you mentioned the dole, "best minds" yelled "shocking," and added:

"What, would you have proud Americans made objects of charity? Would you hand out vile charity cash to a noble American citizen out of a job? Perish the thought."

"Best minds" have changed their view, watching the results of jobs artificially created and not taken seriously by those hired. Many intelligent men have come to the conclusion that the British dole idea, enough cash to keep a man or family from suffering, but not enough to keep him from taking interest in a job, is what the situation calls for.

A single man had a job. It was given to a man with a wife and several children. The employer said:

"I think I can get you another job."

"No thanks," said the man. "I am going on the dole, work four short days a week, get rent money and about the same wages, and have time to look around."

TO HELP PUPILS SAVE THEIR SIGHT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31—Sight-saving classes for children with defective vision have been undertaken in local schools, adding to the special classes of various types that have already been put in operation here.

Four of the sight saving classes are to be carried out in the new program. Students in these groups will have special books, desks, typewriters and board chalk.

The books are all printed in 24-point type, 975 four times as large as the ordinary book tpye. Lighting for the classrooms is provided by ceiling lamps powered by bulbs and mercury tubes.

WELCOME "MINNIE" TO INNER CIRCLE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21 — The socially prominent Cadwalader family is preparing to welcome "Minnie" into the inner circle of the clan.

"Minnie" is a donkey—not an ordinary one, however, but the highest-priced one in Ireland.

Gouverneur Cadwalader purchased "Minnie" a cart and complete harness in Ireland last summer and arranged to have the animal shipped to this country as a pet for his three children.

PARKED HIS MULES 10 HOURS, FINED

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Dec. 21 —Over-time parking is not necessarily confined to motor vehicles, according to Alderman Paul D. Shive, who fined Jesse Thompson, of near Shrewsbury, $10 for allowing a team of mules to stand for 10 hours on the streets of that community.

"Dry" Forces Plan For Dual Program

To Ask For Certain Restrictive Measures At Coming Session Of Legislature

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21 —Members of the federated dry forces of Western Pennsylvania are approaching the new year with a duel program of national and state legislation already agreed upon.

As outlined by the Rev. J. E. Morrison, of West Newton, chairman of the organization, congressional action is planned under three major points. The group will call for adoption of the dry enabling act, the restriction of liquor advertising from the radio and the mails, and the enforcement of legislation to protect dry territory.

Their program for the state legislature is composed of 21 items. This program asks: That clubs be placed under the same restriction as to days and hours of sale that apply to other licensed places: that the liquor control board be given increased power to enforce the liquor laws, and that some improvement be made in local option provisions of the liquor laws.

LEARNS 2 LANGUAGES BUT FORGETS HIS OWN

(International News Service)

RADNOR, Pa., Dec. 21 —George Lang, who was sent at the age of seven years to live with his grandparents in Alsace to "learn a language or two" has learned them so well that he has fotgotten his native tongue.

On his return to this country recently after an absence of eight years, George was bewildered at the greeting tendered him in English. He spoke German and French fluently, however.

Long Is After Football Coach

Football Coaches Association Boycotts Louisiana State, Huey Will Win

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—Tacitly and by mutual understanding, the American football coaches association has declared a boycott against Louisiana State University and Mr. Huey Long, the one-man ensemble. At least, a check up today reveals quite some few off-the-record expressions on the subject from members of the association, in and out of work, and besides we have the tangible evidence as provided by the frank statements of Clark Shaughnessy, Chicago university coach, and Bennie Bierman, of Monnesota.

Shaughnessy and Bierman were publicly threatened by Senator Long, who announced in the papers, following the resignation of "Biff" Jones, that he planned to hire them. They thanked the senator for the warning and swiftly withdrew.

Job Goes Begging

Dick Hanley, just recently unfrocked at Northwestern, also was mentioned by the senator, a fact that might ordinarily be expected to have a certain appeal to a man out of a job. But, in a few, well considered words, he said he wanted to stay out. They even got around to Chick Meehan, who may yet be replaced at Little Manhattan college, which is tantamount to being kicked off the curb stone. Mr. Meehan hasn't received any offer, but his faith no longer is as stout as it was and he fears over-confidence. Anyhow, he wishes to announce that he does not want any offer. He's afraid he might lose all self-control and wind up with $10,000 a year, thereby losing a lot of money. It seems that, with Mr. Long around, you use the first $9,000 for aspiring.

Of course, Mr. Long will get himself a football coach before many days, the market being what it is.

"Jobless coaches clutter market," says one headline this morning.

SIX BREWERIES GIVEN WARNING

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 21—Six breweries today had a warning from the state liquor control board they would lose their licenses if they continued the practice of giving free signs, posters and other articles to induce dealers to handle their products.

The board dismissed complaints against the breweries yesterday, expressing the belief the practice resulted from ignorance of the law.

NEW REVENUE STAMP FOR BEER ANNOUNCED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Designed to end counterfeiting, a new revenue stamp for bulk beer went on sale today at the office of the collector of internal revenue.

The new stamps, larger than those in use previously, will be numbered serially and settered, thus enabling agents to check all purchases.

Bangle Day To Occur Saturday

School Girls Will Sell Emblems For Anti-Tuberculosis Society

PLANS FOR DAY ARE COMPLETED

Arrangements for Bangle Day, which will occur Saturday under the auspices of the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society have been completed, it was stated today by Mrs. George D. Blair, general chairman of the Christmas Seal effort of the society.

Tomorrow morning, a group of school girls, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Mathews, will be stationed in the business section of the city, distributing these little red double-barred crosses, the emblem of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

Bangle Day is observed each year in connection with the annual sale of Christmas Seals, as a means of raising additional funds for combatting tuberculosis.

The condition of Miss Agnes Brennaman, who has been very ill for the last week, seems to be slightly improved.

Rev. and Mrs. Fulton of Plaingrove will give a concert at the Wolf Creek church on the evening of December 21.

One of the few places to add an entirely new word to the English language is Blarney Castle, situated four miles from Cork, Ireland. For a stone of this castle, built in 1449 by Cormach MacCarthy descendant of a line of Irish kings has produced the word "blarney" with its meaning of "flattery, coaxing and wheedling." And all lucky persons who kiss the moss-covered stone the endowed with those "virtues."

The men who are building the Church of God are progressing very fast with their new building considering the time of year.

The "Friendly Home Club" which was to be held this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper has been postponed to a later date.

The young people of Nazareth church will give a Christmas entertainment in the church this Sunday evening.

Mrs. Meade McCracken spent a day recently with her mother, Mrs. Hope, of New Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drake and Dorothy Drake attended the annual "Christmas Mystery Play" at Slippery Rock State Teachers' College chapel on Monday evening.

Miss Blanche Oakes, of Erie, is spending some time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Oakes and family.

John Barnes, of Mercer, was a recent business visitor at the home of William Drake.

Mrs. Fred Lowry and Miss Anna Graham were Grove City shoppers on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Macentire and daughter, Dorothy, spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lowry. Mr. Macentire is employed as an electrician at No. 2 Mine. He has brought his family from Scottdale, Pa., to Grove City, where they have gone to live in furnished rooms.

The young people of Nazareth church will sing Christmas carols to the sick and shut-ins of this vicinity on Christmas Eve.

Recent New Castle shoppers were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drake, Mrs. William Drake and daughter, Dorothy, and Mrs. Clyde Lowry and son, Charles.

Five thousand persons are engaged in washing gold by hand in the streams of the province of El Oro, Ecuador.

City Building Is Inadequate Says Alexander

There is no question but that the records kept at city hall are very valuable and that the municipal building is inadequate for present day city purposes. However, when the time arrives and if it possible that the old postoffice can be secured for either a city hall or a library I am willing to confer with my councilmanic colleagues and also discuss the proposal that it either be used as a city hall or library said Joseph D. Alexander, councilman, today.

Alexander indicated that he is willing to abide by any agreement that is best for all of the people.

He said however, that were a serious blaze to destroy records kept at city hall the loss would be staggering.

BANKER WILL FIGHT FOR NEW TRIAL

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 21.—Counsel for James N. Long, former Bruin bank cashier, who was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary last October, on a charge of stealing bonds from one of the bank's patrons, will carry the fight for a new trial to the state superior court.

Long's appeal for a new trial here was refused by Judge John H. Wilson, who ordered him to make restitution of $1,500 to Mrs. Laura Fletcher for the stolen bonds.

Still In Need Of Court House P. O. Elder Says

Need For New County Building Is Just As Great As For City Building

WOULD COST MUCH TO FIX POST OFFICE

While there seems to be a rush of sentiment in favor of a new city building, there still exists as great a need as ever for a new court house and county building, P. O. Elder, county commissioner, stated today.

In commenting on the attitude of many people who have expressed themselves in favor of taking over the old post office building for a city building, he warns that it would cost a considerable amount of money to fix up the post office building as it now stands and make it over into a structure to be used as a city building.

A tremendous amount more in floor space would be required to house the different offices which are now located in the city building, and the cost of making over an old building is generally as much as it would take to build a new structure.

He believes that people are rather fickle in their ideas. For a time, a great number of people seemed interested in building a new court house and county building, when the government was ready to loan them the money to build a new structure, and made the terms agreeable.

Then because it was opposed by some few people, the idea seemed to die out. Now, it seems, that a great many people who were not interested in a new court house under the terms granted by the government are more than anxious to build a new city structure, because they feel that an old building may be given to them.

He grants the need for a new city building, but feels that there is just as great a need for a county building.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text.

Luke 2:14—"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in whom he is well pleased."

(The international uniform lesson on the above topic for December 23 is Luke 2:8-19, and Ephesians 6:1-4, the Golden Text being Luke 2:14, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in whom he is well pleased.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Christmas is primarily a home festival and pre-eminently the children's festival. That Bethlehem stable was in fact the very first Christian home. The highest tribute ever paid the home as an institution was God's willingness to indwell the humble home of the village carpenter of Nazareth. Christ's nativity sanctifies childhood, motherhood and home as nothing else could have done.

"No Room For Them."

Mary must have longed for a visit to the old ancestral home at Bethlehem, for it was not necessary that she accompany Joseph on the 70-mile journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem. The City of David was her other home, and she gladly accompanied Joseph as he went up at Caesar's command to be enrolled for taxation. But their ancestral city was not as glad to see them as they were to see it. "There was no room for them in the inn." Herein is suggested our privilege and duty of making room in our homes for those away from home at Christmas time. It may be that inasmuch as we do this to them we do it unto him for whom Bethlehem's innkeeper had no room. There is also the peril that amidst the Christmas mush and elsewhere through the year we let material interests and social engagements crowd out Christ and find no room for him in the inn of our hearts and lives.

"Be It Ever So Humble."

"Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home.' And no home is so humble or lowly that Christ refuses to make it his home if bidden welcome there. His first home was a stable and his first bed a manger. That the poverty or riches of the home have little to do with its happiness is witnessed by this manger scene of the happy Nazareth family in Bethlehem's stable. God's interest in the poor and lowly is evident in his choice of the carpenter's home for the rearing of the world's Saviour. Consistent with this was his choice of humble shepherds as the ones to hear the glorious music of angelic hosts sing "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in whom he is well pleased."

Home Enriched By Christ.

Paul's words, "In everything ye are enriched by him", are especially applicable to Christ's enrichment of home and family life. Contrast any typical Christian home with a typical home in pagan lands and be convinced of the home's debt to Christ. A stable radiates the glory of God if he is there. A palace is barren and forbidding if he be not there. His presence and the peace he comes to bring perpetually create the joy of which the angels spake as "good tidings of great joy for all people". The happiness of the home is not centered in material things. The swaddling clothes, the stable and manger of Bethlehem brand as a lie the statement "When poverty comes in the door, love jumps out the window". Where Christ abides joy abides regardless of wealth or poverty. His presence with his peace and good will and tidings of great joy are the first and chief requisites of those who would make a happy home in which every day is a "Merry Christmas' 'because every day Christ is permitted to dwell in their hearts through faith.

"I know not how that Bethlehem's Babe
Could in the God-head be;
I only know the Manger Child
Has brought God's life to me."

SOME DIFFERENCE

A man had just had his first game of golf and returned to the clubhouse flushed with pride. "What was your score?" asked a fellow member.

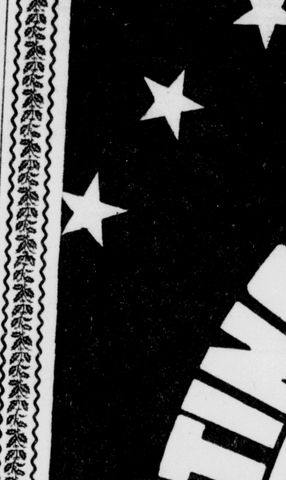

"Seventy-two," replied the novice.

"Seventy-two? That's good!"

"It's not so bad, agreed the novice, "but I'm hoping to do better at the second hole."

No Cop In 15 Tons Of Toys Rebuilt At Jail For Poor

CHICAGO, Illinois, Dec. 21.—There's not a policeman in a ton of toys and Christmas gifts. No, not even in 15 tons. They are gay red-painted firemen, soldiers and Uncle Sams, but the guardian of the law is "out."

The reason thereof is that in this particular toy factory Santa's helpers are involuntary guests of the city at the House of Correction, and they're not given to heroizing "a cop" in the dolls they dress or wooden figures they carve.

"They don't seem to think so much of us," grinned Deputy Joseph J. Carmody at the lock-up, where sewing machines are purring, hammers tap-tap-tapping and paint brushes are splashing as prisoners mend broken toys that some child of the poor may not find an empty stocking.

With relays of 50 busy grown-up gnomes in blue denim recoating paint-scarred wagons, putting a new leg on a toy chair, fixing a doll house door, under supervision of Jacob Pokorny, manuel training director, the room, with frost on the window panes mellowing the outline of the bars, had the appearance of a toy factory out of a story book.

And have they got work to do! Fifteen tons of toys they will have renovated for Santy's pack this Christmas.

Nearly 500 dolls will be mended and redressed in new clothes by women prisoners. Sometimes, at instructions from Mrs. Mary Baber, head of the women's division, it is necessary to reduce incoming dolls to the lowest common denominator and then reassemble—a leg here, an arm there and a head from a third battered dolly.

Letters addressed to "Santa Claus, the North Pole" from many of the city's unfortunate children are being directed by social workers to the office of Edward J. Denemark, superintendent of the House of Correction. Some of these are coming from orphanages.

Toys for these youngsters are left by donors at neighboring police and fire stations; then sent to the prison for repairs, if necessary. Santy's reindeer in this instance are police squad cars and fire trucks.

In fact the big, burly, gruff policeman walking his beat may be a Santa Claus in disguise, for they too, are sending in names of shivering, poorly fed children that the white-whiskered gentleman may not have on his list.

Story Of Little Red Is Presented

Dramatization Of Incidents Surrounding First Sanitarium Presented

Under the direction of Miss Betty Glover, instructor at the George Washington Junior high school, a group of students from that school presented a dramatization of "Little Red," the incident surrounding the founding of the first tuberculosis sanitarium in this country.

The sketch was presented before members of the Phalanx club on Wednesday evening, and on Thursday evening, it was given before the Y. Men's club.

Those who took part were: Marjorie Vaughn, Jane Chilton, Billy Jones, Bobby Richards, Don Moore, and Suzanne Flick.

Toledo Armory Fire Damage Near $500,000

Prompt Action Of Firemen Prevent Major Explosion Of Ammunition Supply

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 21—Fire causing damage estimated at more than $500,000 today swept the Lucas county armory, located two blocks from Toledo's business section.

A possible major explosion was averted by prompt action of firemen. Fourteen companies of the Toledo fire department poured streams of water into the blazing building, in which approximately one million dollars worth of Ohio National guard ammunition and equipment were stored.

Glider Will Carry Thirteen In Flight

(International News Service)

KHARKOV, Ukraine — A giant glider which will carry 13 passengers and 1½ tons of mail is being built in the Soviet Union from plans drawn up by students at the Kharkov Aviation Institute.

It will be the biggest glider in the U. S. S. R.

Although it will be towed by a plane, the glider will be equipped with an auxiliary motor. It will have no tail.

THREE MEMBERS OF JAPAN'S ROYAL HOUSEHOLD

As daughters of Emperor and Empress Hirohito these three little girls have a special place of affection in the hearts of the people of Japan. Princess Teru-no-miya Shigeko, center, is just nine; Princess Taka-no-miya Kazuko, left, is five; Princess Yori-no-miya Atsuko, right, is three. A brother was born recently, and all Japan rejoiced because of an heir at last.

Just Old Custom Silver Standard With This Pair

Use Same Coin To Pay Each Other For Twenty Years

(International News Service)

MERCHANTVILLE, Pa.—The nationalization of silver came as no novelty to the local iceman and his friend, the town barber; for the pair have been on the "silver standard" for more than two decades.

One Saturday night more than a quarter-century ago, Fred Simon, the iceman, dropped in to barber shop of Nicholas Rothgerber for his weekly haircut and shave.

After the beautification proceedings were completed, Simon, neatly trimmed and powdered, offered the barber a silver dollar in payment. Rothgerber eyed the "carwheel" with distaste, gave the iceman a disdainful look and put it away.

The next Monday, Simon stopped at the barber shop to collect the weekly ice bill. Rothgerber paid it with the controversial silver dollar. The following Saturday, the same "cartwheel" found its way back into Rothgerber's pocket.

The dollar has been passing back and forth between the two men ever since. Although it is worn smooth with age, both men declare they will continue to use it in their "trade relations" as long as they continue in business.

Town Has Deepest Well In Country

(International News Service)

SIBLEY, Ia.—The town of Sibley has been relatively fortunate this year in regard to moisture conditions, since it was one of the most favored spots in the drought belt, but that fact didn't alleviate the community's water problem.

For Sibley began wrestling with the water question 35 years ago. Since 1899, when the council decided on a town waterworks, it has been necessary to sink wells at seven different times to remedy water failures.

Sibley has decided finally on a 680-foot "gravel pack" well, the deepest of its type in the country, which it is hoped will permanently solve the water problem.

TASTY VARIETY

There is the ever-popular combination of scalloped potatoes with ham. Try using a generous quantity of grated cheese in the cream sauce used with the potatoes and substitute Canadian bacon for the usual ham.

Kidnapers are convenient, though when you need an alibi for a night or a week away from home.

Romance Through Jail Bars Reformed Woman Prisoner

(International News Service)

SAN JOSE, Cal.—Love blooms today even in the sinister shade of grim prison walls, acording to Howard Buffington for the past 20 years in charge of the prisoners at the historic old Santa Clara county jail built in 1870.

"Recently" he said, "A young woman was sent to us for six months. She was 19, but had a criminal record behind her: good looking, but a little demon.

"She had been in about two weeks when a clean-cut young chap came to see her. I told him that women prisoners could only see men of their families and he said, "I want to be just that'....Then he told me the story.

"He had been working across the street on a scaffolding and had seen her at the prison window. They could not talk, but he had written her messages, on the wall where he stood, and she had answered by signs. After that they wrote each other and he had come to ask permission to meet her.

"I told him she was in on a grand theft charge, and was no good. He smiled and said, you can't tell me that, because I love her.' That was the strangest courtship I ever knew, but from then on that girl blossomed into another person, cheerful and sweet tempered.

"He came every day and one Sunday I told him he could talk to her in the presence of the matron. How thrilled that boy was! They shook hands shyly, then clung to each other's fingers, like kids. He told her he wanted to marry her, and before he left he asked the matron if he might kiss her goodbye.

"When we let that girl out, at the end of five months, for good behavior, he was there to meet her. He took her straight to his mother, told her the truth and they were married the next day. Later that woman came back to see me and when she spoke of her home and her man, she almost sang.

"And that was the girl we figured wasn't worth the powder to blow her up," said Buffington.

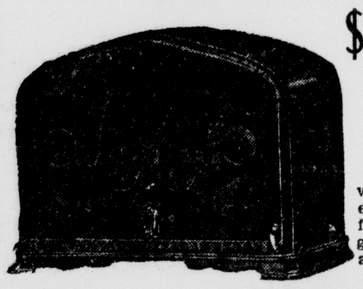

BURGLARS CLIMB MOUNTAIN

Climbing 3,000 feet to the top of Table Mountain, near Capetown, South Africa, burglars broke into the restaurant for travelers using the cable railway. All they got for their trouble were a few coins, cigarets, stamps and food, all valued at $25.

You can tell a good citizen. If the police pick him up, he doesn't know the right people to get him out.

State Relief Need Is High

Larger Proportion Of Families In State On Relief Than Nation's Average

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—The percentage of families on public relief rolls appears to be higher in Pennsylvania than the nation generally, according to figures just released by Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

Mr. Hopkins revealed that in October, a total of 338,702 Pennsylvania families were on public relief rolls. According to the last official census, the Keystone state had 2,235,620 families in all. Upon a basis of these figures, one out of every six Pennsylvania families were receiving public relief in October.

In the country as a unit, on the other hand, only one out of every seven families were on public relief lists.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours at 3:30 p. m. December 20, 6 arrests on charges as follows: suspicion 4: drunkenness 1 and violating parking law 1.

Cascade boulevard between Hamilton street and Cascade Park is standing up well excepting a stretch about 1,000 feet long according to Harry Hoskins, city engineer. That stretch begins at Hamilton street. The reason for this is that the stone base was too course, he declared yesterday in city hall.

Approximately 40 percent of the grading has been completed in Rural Avenue and after the entire avenue has been graded a broken stone base will be laid which will be covered by a three inch limestone blanket. The curve will be super elevated. On the inside of the curve stone gutters will be built and proper drainage will carry water into the Neshannock creek.

The athletic field at Cunningham park is practically completed, according to the city engineer. There are about four and one half miles of road and the gutters extend about seven and one half miles. The big fill in the hollow is showing progress having been filled from both ends. This will connect Cunningham with Gaston park. As soon as this is filled gravel will be placed on the roads.

According to the city engineer, work will be completed on the concrete section of the Taylor street storm sewer beneath the P. R. R. tracks soon. The brick section has been built from South Mill street to a point about 100 feet beyond Pearson street, and the Locust St. ravine storm sewer is practically finished. Grading of Oak park road is about completed and The Narrows are being widened at several places.

The city department of engineers is preparing plans for the grading of Balph Avenue, completion of Dean Park. The fill at this park is practically done. Walls must be constructed and a small storm sewer laid. A stone ditch will also be made to keep the water from flowing into the field. Athletic activities will be staged at the park.

Plans for the improvement of Gunton park are being made and a new water line from Montgomery Avenue to the Disposal plant will be installed. Plans to improve Court street between Ray street and the line are now being made. The city will provide the pipe and the RWD will furnish the labor. Plans for all of the projects in the city are made by RWD engineers under the supervision of City Engineer Harry Hoskins.

MORMONS WARNED AGAINST ACCEPTING UNNEEDED U. S. AID

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 21.—Self-respect and honesty should keep any person from accepting aid from the government except in cases of dire and unavoidable necessity, Apostle Stephen L. Richards of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) church is advising members of the church.

Richards decries what he terms "sponging on the government" and says he holds also equally guilty officials and administrators of funds who connive with greedy and dishonest recipients to rob a munificent government.

"Let no Latter Day Saint accept alms of the government unless absolute necessity makes it imperative," he said.

During the first four months of this year 9,070 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents as compared with 7,740 in 1933 and 8,452 in 1932.

School Heads Are Silent On Grid Scandal

Revelation That W. & J. Spent Big Sums On Athletes Draws Little Comment

PITTSBURGHERS SAY BUT LITTLE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Officials at Pittsburgh's three universities had virtually nothing to say today on the revelation that Washington & Jefferson College subsidized players that brought gridiron fame to that school in years gone by to the extent of $40,000 annually.

Dr. Ralph C. Hutchinson, W. & J. president, who has called a halt to the institution's subsidy program and eliminates big schools from the "Prexy's" 1935 schedule, revealed 47 players held scholarships when he took office in 1931. He estimated it cost the college $800 or more annually to maintain each of these players.

W. Don Harrison, director of athletics at the University of Pittsburgh, could not be reached for comment. Eight members of the squad that represented the Golden Panthers this fall are married.

The Rev. J. J. Callahan, president of Duquesne University, regarded the W. & J. situation as one of internal administration. He thought it none of his or Duquesne's business.

Clarence Overend, graduate manager of athletics at Carnegie Tech, said:

"It is all President Hutchinson's party and I have nothing at all to do with the matter. I do not want to mix in the affair; it has nothing to do with Carnegie Tech or for that matter, any other school."

WHAT OLD MAP SHOWS ABOUT HARRISBURG

(International News Service)

LOCK HAVEN, Pa.—A map drawn in 1841, which is owned by W. F. Sperring, reveals Harrisburg as a borough only a fraction of its present size.

The map shows the state capitol, the arsenal, the waterworks, the MaClay's house, the prison, the court house, the Harris grave, the English and German cemeteries and the Catholic, Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, Lutheran German Reformed, Presbyterian and Union Bethel churches.

FADED WALL PAPER

If you are trying to patch up the old wall paper with pieces from the attic, first put the patches out in the strong sunshine for a day and fade to the color of the oldest paper. The patch will not be nearly so obvious.

"Modern Marie Antoinette"

Magda Lupescu, red-headed weakness of King Carol, is threatening to overthrow his rule in Marie Antoinette fashion. She has become a storm center in Roumania, with former supporters of Carol turning against him because of his refusal to stick to his promise of paying her off. Magda, also shown closeup, is seen with her royal lover at a French resort before his coup d'etat. (Central Press)

State Armories Are Under Guard

Armed Guards Posted At Night At All Armories To Protect Arms

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 21.—Armed guards have been posted at night at all state armories where weapons or ammunition are stored, Adjutant General David J. Davis revealed today.

The move was taken, he said, to provide a leaden welcome to Robert ("killer") Mais and his gang or anyone else who may attempt to duplicate the two recent raids on National Guard arsenals at Norristown and Indiana.

At armories where 24-hour guard has always been maintained, no additional precautions have been taken, General Davis said. This applies only to a few of the largest institutions.

To protect the others, special guards have been hired in some instances while in others the regular day watchman have been transferred to night duty.

Germany Pushing Air Raid Defense

(International News Service)

BERLIN—Preparations for "air protection" in time of war are being rapidly pushed ahead in Germany.

Residents in the fashionable Berlin suburb of Charlottenburg report that workers are now fitting the gas mains outside the houses with many new stop-cocks.

Houses or streets set on fire by air attackers can, as a result of the new fittings, be quickly isolated from the main supply.

The "Hamburger Fremdenblatt" publishes a novel form of "composite page" advertising, consisting of 25 advertisements of firms anxious to sell the public "air protection".

The wares offered include: Steel gas-proof doors for cellars, fire extinguishers, first-aid boxes, liquid to make wood fire-proof, and "black-out" blinds.

An electric firm recommends its storage batteries as especially suitable for lighting air-raid cellar refuges.

MET FIRST TIME SINCE BIG WAR

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa.—When Cleo F. Pineau of this city and Roger White, a Massachusetts salesman, met accidentally on a local street they stopped and stared.

They had seen and heard nothing of each other since two weeks after the armistice, when they parted after being released from a German prison camp. Both were fliers in the Royal Air corps.

They invited in friends to help celebrate their reunion.

WOOD SHOES FOR GERMANY

Wooden-soled boots and shoes are being promoted in Germany as substitutes for the leather products. Wooden-soled footwear is being made in 48 different styles, and is being advertised extensively. One argument is that it is entirely a German product and its use helps build a new domestic industry.

Waterway Plan Would Benefit Pennsylvania

Projects Listed For Improvement In State Would Cost $620,000,000

ARE INCLUDED IN DERN'S REPORT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—A rivers and harbors improvement program for Pennsylvania, involving the expenditure of nearly $620,000,000, could be launched almost immediately if the government should decide upon a vast waterway development program, army engineers said today.

This program would involve 82 projects, reports on which are in the hands of the engineers.

It would call for developments in Pennsylvania of 12 new reservoirs, five levees and three navigation projects.

The program would include the Philadelphia waterway project estimated to cost approximately $102,586,000, plus $17,742,000 to defray the cost of land damages. It also would involve the following expenditures:

Approximately $260,000,000 on the Susquehanna river; $192,000,000 on the Delaware river basin; $52,000,000 on the Beaver river basin; $78,000,000 along the Allegheny river and its tributaries.

These 82 Pennsylvania projects were included among the 1,600 projects mentioned in Secretary of War Dern's annual report as forming the basis for a potential $8,000,000,000 waterway development program.

Dern did note actually mention the Pennsylvania projects nor recommend any special consideration for them. He merely stated the war department had before it "studies and reports" covering 1,600 projects and involving approximately eight billion dollars. If the government should decide upon a gigantic waterway development plan, he said, these reports would form the basis of the program.

Urges Buying Up Of Tin Supplies

Bernard Baruch Says Government Should Preserve Tin Supplies For Future

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Stressing the need of tin as a vital part of the national defense, Bernard M. Baruch today told the House Foreign Affairs committee that this country should purchase quantities of the metal and place it in reserve for possible future use.

"If we want to prepare ourselves from a standpoint of a strategic position, we should invest in tin and keep it in storage," he said.

He testified that as chairman of the War Industries board during the World war, he found the United States had been forced to import large quantities of tin because the domestic industry could not supply the demand.

Asked by Chairman McReynolds of Tennessee, as to whether he thought tin should be accepted from foreign countries as part payment of their debts to this government, Baruch asserted:

"I think we should be glad to get it."

KITCHEN CLOCK HELPS

A clock placed near the stove or working space in the kitchen will serve as a great aid to the new housekeeper. Make note of the time required to cook the various foods and write it down on the recipe card or cook book. This sort of information will prove beneficial.

THEIR LIGHT HOBBY

(International News Service)

DENVER—W. Karas and his brother-in-law, A. B. Winkler, Denver business men, have accumulated a strange collection of odd lamps through a unique hobby they have pursued for years. They spend much of their time in the vicinity of Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo., tramping through the woods in search of bits of juniper wood which have grown into shapes resembling animals. These are carved into lamps, and the beautiful hard wood highly polished.

No wonder! Loss of sleep dulls the mind, and all decisions in a crisis are made by statesmen who have lost sleep.

BLANKET INSURANCE FOR CITY EMPLOYES

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa.—Unable to restore wage cuts during the coming year, city council here has announced its consideration of blanket insurance policies for city employes.

The Policies, Mayor J. G. Payne stated, will pay $1,000 to the beneficiary in case of death for employes under 60 years of age, and $500 for employes 60 or over. Sixty-nine employes, it was estimated, are eligible for the protection.

TELEPHONE RINGS MESSAGE

You may ring up a person in Vienna, Austria, and get a reply even if he is out. A new invention permits the owner of the instrument to set it so that it will ring a bell indicating the number of hours or parts of an hour before he will return to the receiver. When a call is put through the bell automatically rings.

DOG-MAIL TO GIVE WAY TO AIR MAIL

(International News Service)

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Dec. 21—The picturesque dog-sled mail delivery from Wilson, Idaho, into the Jackson Hole country may shortly be replaced by modern airmail service. Officials intimate they are contemplating an air-mail route from Rock Springs to Jackson, Wyo., by way of Pinedale, a distance of 186 miles. Dogs now have to be used to pull the mail sleds over snow-bound Tenton pass during the winter months.

Freighter Rides Out Of Storm

Freighter Badly Rippled By Severe Storm At Sea Proceeds To Home Port

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—After having been buffeted mercilessly by mountainous seas and almost abandoned yesterday when his steering gear broke, the severance of the Diamond line, a 4,993 ton freighter, was on her way to her home port of Boston under her own power early today.

The ship, bound from Norfolk to Boston, ran into difficulties off Fire Island and a call for aid was sent out by her crew of 41 men.

The Widgeon advised she was at the mercy of heavy seas with a broken pump and engine trouble.

Rickenbacker Sets Transport Record Miami To Chicago

Makes Long Trip From Florida To Chicago In Less Than Eight Hours

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 21—Less than eight hours separated Miami, Fla., and Chicago today with establishment of a new transport plane record by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker at the controls of a big Douglas monoplane of the eastern air lines.

The war time ace flew thirteen passengers here from Miami last evening in 7 hours and 40 minutes to inaugurate the eastern air lines' daily nine hour service between Miami and Chicago.

Thirteen passengers made the trip with Capt. Rickenbacker.

Death Penalties For Five Russians

(International News Service)

IVANOVO, U. S. S. R., Dec. 21.—Five employes of the State Bread Bakeries and Supply Stores were sentenced to death today on charges of forming an organization designed to pilfer state property.

Twenty three others were given prison terms in the case.

Christian Church Program Tonight

Sunday School Will Present Annual Christmas Entertainment

The dress rehearsal of "The True Meaning of Christmas" at the Madison Avenue Christian church last night gave certain promise of a most delightful entertainment this evening when the members of the Sunday school will present their annual Christmas program. No admission will be charged but a free-will offering will be taken. The cast of characters follows:

Mrs. Thorne, grandmother—Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh.

Mr. Thorne, father—C. H. Clark.

Sue Thorne, eldest daughter—Mrs. Fannie Hutnick.

Dorothy Thorne, second daughter—Thelma Bumbaugh.

Emily Thorne, youngest daughter—Delphine Jones.

Jimmy Thorne, only son, a true "thorn"—Stephen Hutnick.

Tom Mason, Dorothy's sweetheart—Edward Bevan.

An Old Beggar Woman—Mrs. C. H. Clark.

Act I—A week before Christmas. The living room of the Thorne home.

Act II—The same. Christmas Eve.

Act III—The same. Christmas morning.

The program between the acts will consist of the following:

"A Welcome"—Herbie Mullen.

Christmas Carol—Sara Swan.

"Katie's Wants"—Martha Thomas.

Christmas Carol—Frances Amon and Altha Akens.

"Early in the Morning"—Howard Snyder.

"A Farewell"—Ella Ringer.

SOCIAL CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

At a table beautifully arranged in silver and blue the members of the W. A G. club were seated for a Christmas dinner Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Elks club.

Later gifts were exchanged among the members and several tables of bridge were placed in play.

Dinner arrangements had been in charge of Mrs. H. S. Sherman, while Mrs. Kenneth Walter prepared the table decorations.

The club will meet again on Thursday, January 17, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Leicht, East Clayton street.

SCHOOL PROGRAM

A special Christmas program featured the closing day of school at Mahoning Thursday. It was presented in the first floor assembly room.

Later the Mahoning Girl Reserves enjoyed a Christmas party.

MAILING RUSH

The Christmas season has made the Mahoningtown postoffice as busy as Santa Claus' workshop. The rush got fully underway last Monday, but on Thursday it neared the peak, and this morning reached it.

In addition to the regular staff of men, William Avery is working in the office and Tom Ronan is making special deliveries.

CONDUCTORS' WIVES PLAN INSTALLATION

At a business meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the O. R. C. Thursday in the city building plans were laid for a joint installation of officers with the Order of Railroad Conductors on Thursday evening, January 3, in Horchler hall.

The installation meeting in the evening will take the place of the regular afternoon meeting which would take place on that date. A dinner to take pla in the Mahoning Methodist church preceding the installation was also planned and the following committee was appointed to take charge of the arrangements: Mrs. Fred Flowers, Mrs. Walter Waid, Mrs. Frank First, Mrs. M. R. Olmstead and Mrs. W. E. Saul.

TREAT TONIGHT

Beginning at 6 o'clock this evening there will be "big doings" at the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church. A tureen dinner will launch the annual Christmas party of the congregation. This will be followed by a treat for the youngsters and an elaborate entertainment.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Dick Thompson, Jr., of Mt. Jackson, has arrived at his home for the Christmas holidays. He is a student of Westminster College, New Wilmington.

Miss Virgil Wettich, of West Clayton street, a student of Westminster College, New Wilmington, has arrived here to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wettich.

HONEST MAN IS FOUND AT SHARON

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 21.—Oh! Mr. Diogenes!

Several months ago, Dan Philips, local postal clerk, sold a book of stamps to a man. Recently the man reappeared at the window, handed Philips 37 cents and said:

"When you gave me the book there was another attached and I didn't discovered it until today when I went to use the stamps.

Federal Court In New Building At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—After nearly 50 years of service, courtrooms of the United States court in the old courthouse building here were being abandoned today.

With the completion of the last jury trial, functions of the old courtrooms ended and preparations were made for the next jury trials in the rooms of the new $8,000,000 federal postoffice building. A special four weeks' session of court will begin on February 4.

An Open Letter to the Motoring Public

The Petroleum Administrative Board—after the receipt of complaints on the part of certain of our competitors and after receiving the recommendation of the Planning and Coordination Committee—has issued an ultimatum.

It has demanded that we discontinue our practice of offering our new product..Aerotype ESSO .. under a cash refund guarantee.

The Petroleum Administrative Board has taken the position .. the opinion of legal counsel to the contrary notwithstanding .. that the cash refund feature of our guarantee constitutes a violation of Rules 3 and 17 of Article 5 of the Petroleum Code.

We do not propose to argue the validity of the Petroleum Administrative Board's claim. The issue involved does not warrant it.

We believe that the public will understand our position in not taking issue with the Petroleum Administrative Board .. despite our feeling that there is no violation of the Code in our cash refund offer.

WHY WE MADE THE CASH REFUND OFFER

As a matter of company policy, we have been definitely opposed to the common practice of making unsupported claims regarding product.

At the same time we were convinced of the superiority of Aerotype ESSO over any other motor car fuel marketed today.

Therefore, we felt that through the medium of our cash refund guarantee we could offer this new product to the public without making extravagant claims concerning its merits by giving all motorists an opportunity to determine for themselves its superiorities.

We made no reservations. We left it entirely to the public to pass judgment upon the product after giving it a thorough and impartial trial.

HALF A MILLION BOUGHT . . . ONLY 36 ASKED FOR REFUNDS

It is significant to note that during the first 10 days following the introduction of Aerotype ESSO, some 500,000 motorists purchased approximately $1,000,000 worth of this new premium motor fuel.

Of these half million purchasers, oniy 36 have asked for a refund.

And the total sum refunded amounted to $8.84!

We do not feel that this insignificant amount creates an issue of sufficient consequence to warrant a controversy with the Petroleum Administrative Board.

On the other hand, we believe that public acceptance of Aerotype ESSO and the ability of this fuel to make good on every score have been established beyond every reasonable doubt, as evidenced by the fact that less than a hundredth of 1% of the users requested a refund.

Hence, the guarantee of cash refund is discontinued as of Friday, December 21st, 1934!

We want to take this opportunity to thank the thousands of motorists who have purchased Aerotype ESSO to date for the fair and impartial judgment which they have passed upon it.

Instinct Of Homing Pigeons Still A Puzzle To Breeders

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo. Dec. 21 — Why is a homing pigeon?

That seems to be one of the unexplained mysteries of the processes of nature. Most everyone knows that pigeons can be trained to know their home loft and return to it—but does anyone know why? Experts in the business of raising and training the pigeons are just as puzzled and assign the reason to instinct and let it go at that.

Pigeon racing and breeding is a sport as eagerly followed by its devotees as baseball and horse racing. The birds are taken when they are three months old and trained to return to the home of their owner, no matter how far away they are sent. There must be careful development and encouragement of the "instinct."

The training process begins within two or three months of the bird's birth, and once they are trained to know that a certain spot is their home they always will return to the loft erected on that spot.

Kansas City is a center for pigeon breeding and racing. There are about 100 breeders in Greater Kansas City and they own collectively 5,000 pigeons. Each Sunday from the first of April through September a pigeon race is held. On Memorial day and the Fourth of July there are special events.

Seventy-eight pigeons participateed in this year's Fourth of July derby from Memphis to Kansas City, the winning bird covering the distance in ten hours and 35 minutes.

The birds are bred for speed and endurance, being cared for as carefully as race horses. They sometimes fly as fast as sixty miles an hour, but under ordinary conditions their speed will be between forty and fifty miles an hour.

The birds are so cared for that they need not eat during a race; but drink they must. And it is the search for water that causes most of them to become disabled. Most of the races into Kansas City are routed from the Southwest over the Oklahoma oil fields and the pigeons seeing the oil pools believe them to be water, with disastrous results.

Some of the birds are shot by hunters and others simply lose their way. The birds that become lost are the inferior ones. Their failure to come home weeds them out and tends toward better and better stock.

The birds will not fly at night. This means that the races must be started early in the morning, at dawn, so that the pigeons may reach their destination before dusk. In case the race is unusually long the birds will rest at night and resume the journey the next day

Although some of the birds live to be twelve years old, their racing life, like that of a horse, is about three years.

The first American newspaper cartton was designed by Benjamin Franklin and appeared in his paper, the Pennsylvania Gazette May 9, 1754. Hundreds of history books have since borne reproductions of it.

Traffic Accidents Reported To Police

Four Mishaps In Past 24 Hours —One Car Is Damaged $125

Several automobile accidents occurred during the past 24 hours on local streets, according to reports made to the police department.

One of the cars, owned by M. H. Schmidt, 1232 East Washington street, parked in East Lutton street, was struck by a car bearing Pennsylvania license U-3139, and damaged to the extent of $125.00, he reported. According to Schmidt his car was parked on the "left side" when it was struck by the car which was going east on East Lutton street. The accident occurred at 2:30 p. m. Thursday.

Carl Ryhal, 313 Bell avenue, reported his car was enroute east on East Washington street and he attempted to back into a parking space. A machine with Pennsylvania license 12D44 going in the same direction also tried to get into the parking space at the same time. The accident occurred at 8:30 p. m., Thursday.

Sherman Levine, 418 Neshannock avenue, told police he was operating a car north on Moravia street at Home street. Dave Smith, 10 East Washington street, steered his car left into Home street. Levine applied the brakes and his car skidded. The accident occurred at 11:20 p. m., yesterday.

At 10:30 a. m., Thursday, Lewis J. Tindall, 823 Butler avenue, was driving a truck north on South Jefferson street, near Center street and a Marvin Electric company truck was being driven south. There were automobiles parked on both sides of the street and the cars came together.

PERSHING INVITED

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 21—General John J. Pershing will be one of a group of notables to be invited to attend the 1935 convention of the Pennsylvania Department, American Legion, here next August, according to the convention's executive committee.

Uncle Sam Selects Sleuths From Among Law Graduates

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 —Within rifle-shot of the Department of Justice stands a group of aging structures known as George Washington University, through the doors of which have marched in recent years such a procession of successful criminal-catchers-to-be that it has been dubbed the "Man-Catchers Mill."

The recent capture and annihilation of John Dillinger has focused attention upon the part which graduates of this institution's law school have played in the drama of wiping organized crime off the nation's map.

Samuel P. Cowley, from whose revolver came the slugs—it is common knowledge now—that ended the career of John Dillinger, America's most notorious bandit since the James Boys, received his LL.B. degree from George Washington in 1929.

W. Carter Baum, special agent whose life was snuffed out by a Dillinger bullet during the Spider Lake, Wis., ambush and subsequent fiasco, was graduated with the law class of 1925.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Division of Investigation, whose work in the crime eradication campaign has brought him into the national limelight, holds the degrees of bachelor of laws and master of laws from the university.

Many others closely associated with Hoover in this work are George Washington Law graduates. Included are Clyde Tolson, LL.B., 1927, assistant director in charge of personnel and administration; Hugh H. Clegg, LL.B., 1926, in charge of the investigation of Federal laws, and John J. Edwards, LL.B., 1925, in charge of fingerprints.

Baum was not the only G. W. graduate to meet his death in "line of duty" with the Justice Department. Albert L. Ingle, LL.B., 1930, was one of five special agents who died thus. He was attached to the Charlotte office at the time of his death.

Still another G. W. man who has rendered valuable service to the department is Reed E. Vetterli, LL.B., 1925, now in charge of the San Francisco office. Vetterli, although wounded, was instrumental in the capture and death of Frank Nash, escaped convict-train robber, in a pitched battle at Kansas City last June. Vetterli later directed the operations which led to the capture of the kidnappers and murderers of young Brooke Hart, of San Jose.

Interestingly, alumni of the university have recently figured not only as apprehenders of desperadoes, but as their victims. Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, whose kidnapping stirred the country, was graduated from George Washington with the degree of bachelor of laws in 1919 and received his master's degree a year later.

Spinach Matched Against Goulash

VIENNA—Spinach versus goulash is the popular name for the odd race between two Hungarian athletes, running from Budapest to Rome. J. Lovas is a vegetarian, whereas P. Matura is an adherent of meat in all and any form. They both ran eight to ten hours a day, averaging about 10 kilometers per hour. At the Austrian border they both rested 24 hours. Matura slept almost all the time, while Lovas went to a movie.

Matura said he hopes to win the race with his strong heart and lungs, fed on goulash, schnitzel and roast beef. Lovas believes that the kidneys and the nerves have the hardest job when running, and he claims these organs prefer vegetables.

Motor Clubs Oppose Multiple Taxation

With the convening of Congress in January the (A. A. A.) New Castle Motor Club will take an active part in the national effort to prevent reenactment of the series of special Federal excise levies now imposed on highway transportation.

The motorists paid considerably more than $250,000,000 in special Federal taxes during 1933.

"The series of levies," consists of a Federal tax on new cars and trucks, a tax on parts and accessories, a tax on tires and tubes, a tax on every gallon of gasoline, and a tax on lubricating oil. In other words, the motorist buying an automobile is taxed and continues to be taxed so long as he operates the vehicle.

"This series of unjust and discriminatory taxes is scheduled to expire on June 30th, 1935. There is reason to hope that they will not be reenacted.

And their elimination will reduce the total motor tax bill, now in excess of a billion dollars a year, by approximately one-third.

The A. A. A. Executives declared that members of Congress who are familiar with the conditions now confronting highway transportation will find it difficult to justify any vote in support of retaining the Federal levies.

"With a determined drive against multiple taxation now being made and Treasury experts studing the subject", they said, it is high time for Congress to consider the many forms of taxes now imposed on car owners. This source of revenue should be left to the states and used strictly for highway and related purposes.

Recovering from a broken back suffered in an automobile accident last summer, 22-year-old Lisa Lindstrom, flaxen-haired swimming star, soon expects to remove her steel brace and swim again. She holds several records.

Surprise Plea Ends Hearing In Brewing Co. Stock Dispute

Hearing in the equity case of John J. McCoy against Adolph Green which was taken up before Judge James A. Chambers at court yesterday, came to an abrupt end, when the plaintiff made a motion to amend the statement. The defense plead surprise and the case was continued. The suit is one in which McCoy is trying to secure $12,500 worth of promotion stock of the Union Brewing company, his claim being that $50,000 worth was to be divided equally among Adolph Green, Louis Genkinger, E. O. Haun and himself. Green denies this arrangement claiming that the stock was to be distributed in proportion to services rendered. No date has been set for the final hearing.

FIRE DISCOVERED IN SEWER PIPES

(International News Service)

BRACKENRIDGE, Pa.—Accustomed to combatting high water and other menaces of a sewage disposal system Street Superintendent Walter W. Scott faced a new problem recently when he received a report that a sewer was ablaze and spouting flames.

Investigating, he found that a gas line was leaking and that gas which had entered the sewer had, in some manner, become ignited. Gas company officers were notified and the leak was repaired.

Misfortunte is hard on faith. Man can't believe in a Providence that lets him suffer for him dumbness.

Bat In Every Belfry Aim Of Hungarians

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST — Hungarian fruit growers are behind a campaign to put a bat in every belfry, or two bats for that matter, have it your way.

The growers plan to erect towers throughout the fruit section to house the bats and protect them from the onslaughts of the peasants.

There, as in most parts of the world, the bat is regarded by the superstitious as a sign of ill omen and the bats are killed at every opportunity.

So great was the campaign against them carried out that the insects, which do great damage to the orchards and are preyed upon by bats, got out of hand.

Therefore the fruit growers took steps to protect the bats.

Unemployed In Pickle Strike!

(International News Service)

ICAMOUS, B. C.—Indignant at the absence of mustard and pickles from their meals, relief workers in camp 75 went on strike. The strike was a complete success.

After a lengthy huddle, officials at the camp agreed to meet the workers' demands.

JOHN D. HAS RIVAL AS DONOR OF DIMES

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—John D. Rockefeller, Sr. had better look to his laurels.

John Lazar, jeweler, is stealing his stuff—in fact is handing out between 200 and 300 dimes a day to downtown outers.

When Lazar strolls through the sidewalks are lined with men waiting for the hand-out which has become a daily benefaction during recent weeks.

What the men do with the dimes is more or less a mystery. Lazar once took 60 of them into a restaurant, changed $6 into dimes and awaited developments. Not one purchased even a cup of coffee.

Special Christmas Services In All Churches Of Town On Sunday

OTHER NEWS OF COLLEGE TOWN

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 21.—Special Christmas services are planned by all three New Wilmington churches for this Sabbath, the Sunday immediately preceding Christmas.

Dr. J. Ralph Neale and Rev. W. F. Byers will occupy the pulpits of their respective churches, while Dr. C. G. Farr will preach in the Methodist church.

"Christmas Through the Ages," is the title of the Christmas pageant to be presented in the Presbyterian church, Sunday evening at 7:30. The cast includes twenty people with the church choir furnishing the music.

A "White Gift" pageant, directed by Dr. Elizabeth Veach, assisted by Mrs. E. H. Freeman, Mrs. A. L. Skillen and the choir, will be presented in the United Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock.

A pageant of recitations, dialogues and music will be presented in the M. E. church on Sabbath evening.

LOUISE SCOTT MEETS

The December meeting of the Louise Scott Society of the United Presbyterian church was held Monday evening in the church parlor, with Mrs. Ludwick in charge of the devotional service.

The subject for discussion was "Moffat and Livingtone" and was led by Mrs. W. C. Brownlee and Miss May McKelvey.

HOSTESS

Miss Alice Palmer dispensed hospitality to employes of Brown Hall and Hillside Dormitory on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McCrumb.

A grab bag, to which each guest contributed his present, featured the evenings entertainment. The guests participated in a program of games, followed by the serving of delicious refreshments by Mrs. John Agnew and Miss Ella Kanagy.

WINNEMISSETT CLUB

Mrs. Arthur Minteer proved a hospitable hostess to the members of the Winnemissett Club who gathered at her home on Tuesday evening for their annual Christmas party.

The feature of the evening was a delightful oyster supper at 6:30, on small tables decorated with Christmas candles.

Gifts were exchanged by the members during the course of the evening.

The remaining hours were spent in bridge, prizes for high score being awarded to Mrs. Thomas Hutchison and Agnes Gilliland.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

One of the most delightful of pre-Christmas parties was the one held at the home of Miss Kathryn Gilliland of Mercer street on Wednesday evening, when the little hostess entertained the members of the Marguerite Hoagland Sunday School class of the U. P. church.

Following a delightful evening of games the members exchanged gifts.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her special aides during the social hour.

ANNIVERSARY

Fifty-five years of wedded bliss was the cause for a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lewis of the Pulaski road on Monday night, when relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fulkman gathered to honor the couple, who passed their golden anniversary by five years on Tuesday of this week.

All members of the Fulkman family, including children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were present with the exception of John Fulkman and family, of Chicago.

Following the serving of a delicious dinner, the evening hours were spent informally. Rev. W. F. Byers and Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Kirkbride were special guests.

CAROLLERS

Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Rose, the junior chorus of the seventh and eighth grades will go caroling next Monday night.

All the shut-ins and invalids of the town will be visited by the youthful serenaders.

NEW WILMINGTON NOTES

Mrs. Alice Heckathorn, of Lowellville, Ohio, is spending some time at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson, who is ill.

Mrs. Dan Weyrick of Beechwood road has returned home after spending a couple of days at Sharpsville with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Swartz.

Joe McClure and William Campbell, who have spent the past year in New Mexico, have returned to their homes here.

Mrs. George A. Smith has returned to her home in Sugar Grove, Pa., after spending two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Frances Williams.

Miss Eleanor Smith of Pittsburgh, returned home today for the holiday season. She has as her guest, Miss Mary Desic.

Joseph McClure, a student at Penn State College, has returned to his home here for the holidays.

FIREMEN KEPT BUSY AT NEW OCCUPATION

International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Dec. 21— Local firemen have their hands full not so much because of fires as illegal kills of deer in this section.

At one time, more than 20 of the illegally killed deer accumulated at the local engine houses to keep the firemen busy preparing the venison for distribution to the needy.

RELIEF WORK PROJECT

FRANKLIN, Pa., Dec. 21 —More than 300 men are expected to be employed for a period of at least two months on the $70,000 relief work sewer project at nearby Rocky Grove.

The project is the largest yet undertaken in Venango county under the Federal Work Relief program.

Ship Passengers Suffer Injuries

Severe Storm At Sea Injures Passengers On Giant Liner

(International News Service)

LE HAVRE, France, Dec. 21.—Tossed and pounded by Atlantic storms that sank two ships, the United States liner Washington steamed into port today with many bruised passengers.

Robert Straus of New York, son of Jesse Isidor Straus, American ambassador to France, was the most injured.

Eight stitches were taken in his leg, where he was cut when hurled to the deck as the ship gave a violent lurch.

GARDNER

Mrs. Scott Mayers, of West Middlesex, came to Gardner on Monday and will spend the holiday season at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibson and family.

Mrs. Philip Moore, of Gardner, has been threatened with quinsey for several days but is hopeful of escaping a real attack. Little Sylvia Moore has had tonsilitis and was out of school one day last week.

Rev. John Homer and Miss Agnes Koch, of Ellwood City, came to Gardner last Friday night to bring Miss Pauline Ricker, of Youngstown, O., who came to visit her mother, Mrs. Cora B. Ricker, the evangelist, who is conducting a revival for the Church of God, in Ellwood City.

Mrs. Edward Earl, of the Ellwood road, entertained the class of which she is a member, from the First Baptist church of New Castle, at a Christmas party last Friday night. Gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Phillip Moore assisted Mrs. Earl in entertaining and serving a delicious menu. Places were laid for twenty. Mrs. "Red" Williams is the teacher of the class. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Will entertain the Gardner Community circle the last Friday night of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bender of the Harlansburg road entertained Mr. and Mrs. Helling, of Franklin and Mrs. Ross, an eveangelist of Olean, N .Y. last Sunday.

Last Drill Of Year For Troop

Troopers Will Be Given Respite From Drill Sessions Next Week

DATE OF FEDERAL INSPECTION SET

Troop F., 103rd Cavalry, PNG, will have their last drill of the year at the armory this evening, when preparations will be furthered for the coming Federal inspection. No drill session will be held next week because of the holidays.

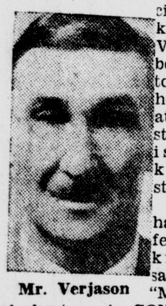

Capt. Harvey G. Bintrim, commander of the troop, has received word from the Adjutant General of the state, that the Federal Inspection of the Troop will occur on January 17. The inspecting officer will be from the 112th Infantry, at Grove City.

Troop F. has been working hard on their winter drill schedule and hopes to make its usual creditable showing at the Federal inspection, which occurs next month.

KIDNEY VICTIM NOW SPEAKS UP

"I'm A Different Person Since I Got It;" Every Ache and Pain Is Gone.

Mr. James Verjason, of No. 21 Park St., Pottsville, Pa., is still another prominent and well-known resident who is PUBLICLY praising the new, scientific mixture of Medicinal Plant Juices, known as Indo-Vin, which is now being introduced to the public daily here in this city at Eckerd's drug store. Following is this widely-known man's statement:

Mr. Verjason

"For years I had almost suffered death with kidney trouble," said Mr. Verjason. "My kidneys simply kept me in CONSTANT misery, in fact, I was so stiff and sore in my back when I got up in the mornings that I could hardly EVEN WALK and I had to keep rising with my kidneys all night long, which broke up my sleep and rest. Then during the day if I happened to stoop over, the pains would almost STIFLE me.

"I tried medicine after medicine and none of them ever reached my trouble at all, but finally I found Indo-Vin and it proved to be what I HAD ALWAYS NEEDED. It put an end to the soreness and misery across my back and around my kidneys. I never have to get up at night anymore, and I can stoop over all that I please and never have any pains AT ALL. This medicine has almost changed me into a NEW PERSON, and I can't help but endorse it to everyone who suffers.

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle, at Eckerd's drug store, and sold by every good druggist in all the nearby towns throughout this whole section.

New Castle High 1935 Grid Card Is Made Public

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner Announces Tough Program For Next Fall

Martins Ferry, O., And Erie East New Comers, One Open Date To Fill

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team is going to face a tough schedule of games for next fall, according to the program announced today for the first time by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner. There is only one open date to fill.

Martins Ferry Booked.

The card at the presnt time contains seven home games and four games away. The open date game will be played here, and it probably will be Ashland, Ky., state champions of Kentucky for the past several years. Gardner has been in communication with Ashland and negotiations have just about reached the closing point. Ashland will bring one of the most colorful teams to ever play in New Castle.

New Castle fans next year will have a chance to see the powerful Martins Ferry high team in action. The champions will play here on November 9. Martins Ferry last year was runnerup for the state championship, having defeated the strong Steubenville team and other strong teams. It will mark the opening of two-year relations between New Castle and Martins Ferry.

Many Old Rivals.

New Castle high will play one other newcomer to the schedule next year, going to Erie for a night game with Erie East.

The remainder of the teams on the 1935 card were met in 1934. The first three games at home are listed as night games, then comes a day game at Johnstown, and then a night game here with Wsahington high. The Erie and Charleroi games will be played at night (weather permitting).

New Castle will play four class AA conference games next year as follows: Washington, Charleroi, New Kensington and Butler. There is a possibility that Johnstown will ask for a berth in the W. P. I. A. L. and of course would rank class AA.

Tough Program.

This appears to be the toughest program that New Castle high has faced for quite some time. With the loss of Raskowski, the great guard, and the two Shellogg brothers Alec and Fred, along with Palkovitch and Fleming, Coach Bridenbaugh will face next year's schedule with a rather green team.

New Castle won the class AA conference championship again this year and will be out to win again next season, but the going will get tougher with such teams as Scott high, Ambridge, Aliquippa, Uniontown and others in class AA now. If Ashland, Ky., does not take that open date, it is possible that Aliquippa will accept the date for a grid game here.

The 1935 football schedule:
*Sept. 13—Braddock here.
*Sept. 20—Butler here.
*Sept. 27—Warren here.
Oct. 5—At Johnstown.
*Oct. 11—Washington here.
Oct. 18—Pending.
*Oct. 25—At Erie East.
*Nov. 1—At Charleroi.
Nov. 9—Martins Ferry, O., here.
Nov. 26—At New Kensington.
Nov. 23—Open.
Nov. 28—Sharon here.
*Night games.

TEMPLE GOES SOUTH
(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—Three teams of Temple university's gridders today were bound for the southland and the Sugar Bowl clash at New Orleans on New Year's day.

The Owls' itinerary in the south calls for them to go first to Baton Rouge, La., where they will stay a week at Louisiana State university for practice drills. They are due in New Orleans December 29. Thirty-three men are making the trip.

Turkey's university is being developed along modern lines with the help of a staff of Jewish and other refugees from Germany.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, Va., won the $5,000 British colonial open golf tournament at Nassau, Bahamas, with a score of 267, after being five down to Tony Butler at the turn on the final round. Butler, who hails from Harlington, Texas, faltered badly on the last nine holes, going four over par and finally finishing in second place, one stroke behind Cruickshank.

Virginia Van Wie's all-conquering march through the golfing year, including her third successive national women's title has brought her the added distinction of being voted 1934's outstanding feminine sport star. Thirty seven of 102 sport writers voted in the toll conducted by a news association. They based their opinion on her winning the South Atlantic, Western 72 hole medal derby and National titles and her matches against Great Britain in Curtis cup competition.

Duquesne travelled to Chicago to beat Loyola, 39 to 23.

Humberts Trim Bessemer, 41-35

Staging a strong come-back in the second half, the powerful Humbert First quintet won a startling 41-35 triumph over the Bessemer Newman club, in an exciting contest played on the Humbert floor on Thursday night.

Bessemer composed of former Bessemer high passers, left the floor at the half with a 22-19 lead. Zingaro, with 20 points, was outstanding for the winners, while Plevnic was the best for the losers.

In the preliminary game, the Humbert Reserves registered their fourth straight triumph, defeating the Mahoning A. A., 29-18.

PERELMANS READY FOR LOOP OPENER

The strong Perelman basketball team is ready to open the Humbert league basketball season tonight at the Humbert hall by meeting the fast Johnson Bronze quintet. The game is carded for 8:15 o'clock, according to Manager and Coach Joe Kelly.

The following members of the Perelman team are to report tonight at the Humbert hall at 8 o'clock: Joe Kelly, John Shaftic, Joe Shaftic, Jack Llewellyn, Nickie Ross, Archie Ridley, Bill Wallace, Jack Nygard.

AT STAFF MEETING

J. L. Thoman, terminal trainmaster of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and C. H. Cotton, assistant road foreman of engines, are in Akron today, attending a staff meeting of the officials of the Akron division.

Shenango-Union To Clash Tonight

Shenango-Union In Feature Game In County League Tonight

Shenango High School basketball team co-leaders of the Lawrence County High School basketball league will have their lead jeopardized tonight when they tangle with the fast Union High team at the Shenango High floor in a league battle. The girls of the two schools will play the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach Ed Raney has the Shenangos at the top of their game for the Union contest tonight. Shenango has defeated East Brook and Wampum for two league victories. Union has lost the first two stars. Coach Davey Boyd wants a victory tonight and promises a shakeup in the lineup.

The other county league games for tonight will find East Brook at home with the Wampum team, and Mt. Jackson playing at New Wilmington. The Bessemer team is idle tonight in league circles.

Titans Defeat Butler, 54 To 26

Bennett High Scorer In Game Played At Butler, Pa., Floor

Westminster College basketball team of Titans handed the Company D quintet of Butler a 54 to 26 lacing last night at the Butler, Pa., floor. Wesley Bennett was the big star of the game with 17 of the points.

Hunneke and Leyshock also played fine basketball for the Lawthermen, scoring 17 points between them. At the end of the first half the Westminsters led 18 to 10.

Church League Games Tonight

Church League Games At "Y" Will Be Interesting Tonight

Tonight at the Y. M. C. A. floor the New Castle church basketball teams will go into action with three fast games being booked.

The first tilt starting at 8 o'clock will find the First Christians opposed to the Sacred Hearts in what should be one of the most attractive games of the card. The second game brings the Tifereth Israel team against the strong First M. E. quintet. The third game will have the St. Michaels and the Epworth team tangling, and according to Coach Babovsky the St. Mikes are going to win the game tonight and then go right to the top of the league.

FLOOR NOTES IN NUTSHELL

AIELLOS WIN AGAIN

The Aiello basketball team handed the Notre Dame All-Stars a 29 to 14 defeat at Colonial floor last night. Victor Augostine and Scarazzo had the most points.

GALAXY OF STARS

The Humbert basketball league will contain a number of star performers of the hardwood courts in New Castle, with such stars as "Bus" Reiber, Ridley, Battley, Shaffer, Nickie Ross, Joe Kelly, Bill Wallace, Neyman, Kulich, Small, and others enrolled on the various teams in the league. The league opens tonight with three fast games on tap. The first game will start at 7 o'clock.

GROVE CITY WANTS GAMES

Walter Horsman, of 324 North Center street, Grove City, Pa., has written to The News asking that any first class basketball teams in New Castle composed of ex-high and college stars get in touch with him by mail for a floor game. The Grovers can give any of the teams in this district a tough battle, according to Horsman.

J. Diven And Burger Lead Sharon High In Basketball Triumph, N. C. Reserves Win

NEW CASTLE SQUAD SHOWS PROMISE

New Castle High School basketball team opened the home season last night at George Washington Junior High gym floor by taking the small end of a 34 to 28 count at the hands of a fast and accurate passing Sharon High quintet. In the preliminary game the New Castle High Reserves pulled one out of the fire by winning 25 to 22 after a poor start in the first half.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh presented a rather green floor squad last night with Brownie Ostrosky the captain of the team the only veteran on the squad. Three of the new men this year John Clark, Henry Koszela and Dom Covelli will develop into dependable performers with a little more experience, as their work last night indicated, this trio getting 16 of the New Castle points.

Sharon High also had a green team with Burger the center the only left-over from last year. The end of the first period found New Castle trailing 8 to 7, and at the end of the first half it was 19 to 11 in favor of the Orange and Black clad artists from Mercer County.

New Castle Rallies

The Collins coached team continued to pile up points in the third period making 11 against six for the Castles to lead at the end of the third stanza by a score of 30 to 17. Coach Bridenbaugh sent Dom Covelli and Dal Mumford into the game in the final period and this seemed to have its effect on the New Castle team as Mumford and Covelli rang up several field goals and soon New Castle High was back in the running. Sharon on the other hand was content to play a defensive game with a big lead and only tallied four points against 11 for New Castle in the final period. The early lead gained by the Sharonites was too much for the locals to overcome.

Reserves Win Close One

New Castle High Reserves showed possibilities in the opening game on the program by taking a 25 to 22 verdict after a most listless start in the first half when they trailed 17 to 6. Things happened fast and furious in the second period with the New Castle team fighting mad and soon the Sharon lead was wiped out. Eddie Ostrosky the pint-sized forward of the New Castle proved the inspiration for the Reserves with 10 points. Dom DeCaprio scored eight points and played a fine game.

Eintrachts Will Battle Homestead

Coach Norman Buckingham has the Eintracht basketball team all polished up and waiting for the Homestead team on Saturday night at the Humbert Hall floor. The Homestead girls and the Eintracht lassies will play the preliminary game, which starts at 7:15 o'clock.

This is a league encounter for the Eintrachts, and the Buckingham are out to win the game, if at all possible, as they hope to finish out in front in the Saxon basketball league this year.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

HUEY LONG—PRO AND CON

If you are one of those sentimental souls that is mourning over football conditions in your sister state, Louisiana, just dry your tears and let Louisiana take care of its own football team. In the first place, they may not be asking for any sympathy and, secondly, they don't deserve it if they are.

Huey Long has been pictured as a modern Simon Legree in his dealings with the Louisiana State university football affairs. But there must be somebody in Louisiana who likes Huey, they elected him to the senate, didn't they?

Alhough many fans seem to be getting gray-haired from worrying about the outcome of L. S. U. under Long's dictatorship of athletic affairs, the problem should be left entirely to the southern State. Long doesn't mean anything to the other 47 states, athletically speaking, so why should they concern themselves with the problems of Louisiana and Long?

Of all the hollering and wailing being done there seems to be very little coming from Louisiana, the place most vitally concerned.

New Castle is some 1,100 miles away from L. S. U. so we don't know just how the Louisianans feel. However, if they are bewailing Huey's interference they deserve very little sympathy. Long was ace-high with them all when he dipped the treasury to allow hundreds of students something like $7 each to go to Nashville for the Vanderbilt football game.

All of those students were well enough educated to realize that a politician wasn't flitting away thousands of dollars just to see a group of college students make merry. Huey made an investment there and he's now asking for returns.

In other words, L. S. U. should have known that they couldn't have their cake after once eating it. They were willing enough to accept all Long offered them and they should have realized that Huey would, in turn, expect a little something from them.

Now Huey comes to the front with the idea that he can mould national championship grid machines at "his" university. The sporting blood of the nation has turned thumbs down on the whole business but that won't stop Huey.

We'll readily agree that football could probably get along much better without political interference, but it looks as though the critics who are predicting a fall for L. S. U. under Long dictatorship are making a terrible mistake.

Long has remained more or less in the background these past few years and at the same time the Kingfishers have been quite successful in football, so what they will do with the Long political windmill in full blast can only be surmised.

Huey is a politician with plenty of power and influence, and if he turns his attention to the gridiron he'll be hard to stop.

Whether you admire or censure the policies of Long, you'll have to admit that he is a forceful fellow who usually grabs what he goes after. All the over emphasis ballyhoo and Carnegie Foundation reports in the country will not feaze Long the least bit when he goes after a football team.

So with such a man, in a determined frame of mind, out to get a gridiron machine that can win national championship, it is difficult to see how he can be checked entirely, providing, of course, that his political influence remains.

Long probably won't stop at getting a good coach either. He may not know all there is about football but he undoubtedly realizes that a good coach needs material. Again we say Long won't care a hoot for the Carnegie Foundation when he goes hunting for football prospects.

He has political influence and money, and as a last resort he probably wouldn't stop short of enrolling the Chicago Bears and New York Giants for a Huey Long College education.

Politics is by no means a tonic for amateur football but the fact remains that the Kingfish is determined to have the best football team in the country and he has the means of getting it, namely: money, power, and influence.

Mahoning Team Tops East Brook

Mahoning junior high basketeers blossomed out with a reserve of hidden strength Wednesday night and topped the East Brookers at the East Brook high school gymnasium by a score of 24 to 13.

The game waxed fast and furious and the score at the end of the half was 13 to 8 favor Mahoning.

Piccuti and Piccirillo were the leading scorers for the winners and Pisano played a good defensive game. Finnegan and Shuler starred for the losers.

East Brook players were E. Shuler, D. Reed, Finnegan, Jameson, W. Floyd, and subs, K. Reed and L. Floyd.

Mahoning players were Nocera, Piccuti, Piccirillo, Pisano, Ross, and subs, Prosky, Taylor, DeFelice and Dominick.

A free man is one who thinks he could run the country and wishes he had sense enough to manage his family.

STOCKS

Stock Market Tone Firmer

Railroad Shares Continue With Firmer Tone, But Utilities Sag

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—While railroad shares showed a slightly firmer tone today, the utility group continued to work lower.

American Telephone was a pronounced weak spot in the utility shares dropping more than a point before meeting with support. Consolidated Gas opened fractionally higher and then showed signs of easing slightly. United Gas Improvement, United Corp. and Standard Gas dipped fractionally.

Atchison and Delaware & Hudson were the strong spots in the carrier group with gains running to a point.

United States Steel, Bethlehem and American Can were quiet and moved in a narrow range. The motor shares gave a similar performance.

Among the specialties Celanese was a firm spot, liquors were inclined to be slightly irregular with Schenley down a fraction.

DuPont and the other chemicals were rather dull but firm. Sugar stocks were weak with South Porto Rican sugar down a half point to a new low.

Commodity markets were mixed with cotton steady and wheat lower.

Rural Churches Plan Programs

Entertainments To Be Presented In Practically All Of Churches

SONG AND STORY CHRISTMAS TALES

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 21.—Many of the rural churches in this district are planning Christmas programs, pageants and cantatas to be presented during the Christmas season.

Among those planning entertainments are:

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock a miscellaneous program will be presented at the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church. The main feature will be shadow pictures of Christmas in song and story. There will be special vocal numbers, including solos, duets and selections by the choir. The primary and beginners classes will give recitations and song. The entertainment is in charge of Misses Jean Wimer, Frances McElwain and Mary Worcester.

The annual entertainment of the Wurtemburg Methodist church will also be given on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. A miscellaneous program with each class participating will be featured.

December 25, at 8 o'clock the Park Gate Baptist church will present their programs at 7:45, which includes various numbers by the children directed by Mrs. John Wright, while the older members will present a pageant. The Story Beautiful. This pageant will be repeated on Wednesday evening at 7:45.

A pageant, The Story Beautiful, with a number of other features will make up the Christmas entertainment for the Hickory Knell Church of God on Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock.

A cantata and recitations with a special message by the pastor will be featured at the St. Mark's Lutheran church of Lilyville when they gather on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. T. Wilson is pastor of the church.

Members of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church have chosen Monday evening at 8 o'clock to present their varied programs of playlets, musical numbers and recitations. The program is in charge of Miss Elsie Pflugh, Mrs. Carl Shirley and Mrs. John Staph.

Each of the classes of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley will have part in their annual program which will be presented on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock under the direction of Miss Vesta Householder. The church orchestra will contribute special numbers.

Eight o'clock, Sunday evening, has also been selected by members of the Knox Presbyterian church for their annual program which will include songs, recitations and drills. Mrs. Abriam Davies is chairman of the committee.

A candle lighting service will be featured at the Camp Run United Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, 8 o'clock. This impressive service will be conducted by members of the Young People's Christian Union.

EVER READY CLASS SELECTS OFFICERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 21.—The annual Christmas party held by members of the Ever Ready class of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church proved to be a decided success yesterday afternoon when the group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Carl Shirley in North Sewickley.

Folowing the devotional period an election of officers was held which resulted: President, Miss Bessie Collins; vice president ,Msr. W. J. Blinn; secretary, Mrs. Dave McKinney; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Bowers.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in an informal manner with games and music, after which an exchange of gifts was featured. The hostess served a tasty luncheon.

During the winter the class will meet the third Thursday of every month with the next meeting on Thursday, January 17, at the home of Mrs. Charles Bowers in North Sewickley.

ALLISON CLASS

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 21—A fine meeting was held by the Allison Memorial Bible class of the Bell Memorial church Thursday evening at the home of Braden McCandless on Orchard avenue. A large turnout featured the affair. After a short business meeting a Christmas party and social time was enjoyed.

Yule Party Held By McDonald Class

Children Present Interesting Program At Annual Event Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 21—Hannah P. McDonald class of the U. P. church held its annual Christmas party Thursday evening in the basement of the U. P. church. Nearly 50 participated in the occasion. The place was appropriately decorated.

Mrs. Emmett Liebendorfer was in charge of an interesting program for the occasion. A group of children rendered vocal and instrumental numbers and recitations. They were Iona Cable, Daisy Wallace, Gerald Wright, Marie and Rita Manning.

An exchange of gifts was then enjoyed by those present. Mrs. Jennie McKim, teacher of the class, was surprised when she was presented with a special gift from the class at this time.

Later in the evening a luncheon was served by a committee composed of Mesdames Gomer Owens, Russell Anderson, Freda Barkley, and Francis Tomasson. The class will meet again on the second Thursday of January.

M. Y. B. Club Has Christmas Party

Mrs. Earl Duncan Is Hostess To Club At Interesting Event Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 21.—Members of the M. Y. B. club held their annual Christmas party Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Earl Duncan on Spring avenue.

A delicious chicken dinner was served at 6:30 at one table which was centered with a miniature Christmas tree and lighted red tapers. Clever place cards were used.

After dinner an exchange of gifts was held. Two tables of cards were then in play with the score awards at the conclusion going to Mrs. Minnie Anderson, Mrs. Lottie Fye, and Mrs. Ida Duncan.

Assisting Mrs. Duncan on this occasion were Mrs. C. E. Anderson and Mrs. Lottie Fye. Mrs. Ralph White will entertain the club on Jan. 3.
